U. S., Britain Make Final Bid for Test Ban Treaty

Still Time For Pact, Reds Told

Agreement Vital Before April Shots

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and Britain gave the Soviet Union an apparently final warning today that unless there is agreement on an enforceable nuclear test ban the new U.S. test series scheduled to start late this month will have to go forward.

In a joint statement released at the White House, the two governments called on the Soviets to reconsider their position on the inspection issue and to accept the principle of international verification.

To Test Otherwise

"If they will do this," the statement said, "there is still time to reach agreement."

The declaration then continued: "But if there is no change in the present Soviet position, the governments of United States and the United Kingdom must conclude that their efforts to obtain a workable treaty to ban nuclear tests are not now successful, and the test series scheduled for the latter part of this month will have to go forward."

President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan chose the joint statement technique for stating their position, in preference to forwarding another direct appeal to Soviet Premier Khrushchev. Some U.S. officials said the time is considered too late for the personal communication method.

Reviews Negotiations

The statement was not presented as a Kennedy-Macmillan declaration but as one from the two governments.

The 600-word statement reviewed the latest round of U.S.-British negotiations with Russia on a treaty to ban further testing of nuclear weapons.

The negotiations began at Geneva a month ago when Secretary of State Dean Rusk met Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko at the opening of the 17-nation disarmament conference.

A few days before the conference opened Kennedy had announced that unless a dependable ban on testing could be negotiated before late April the United States would begin conducting tests in the atmosphere over the central Pacific.

Today's declaration said that Gromyko—as well as other Soviet leaders—had consistently rejected the principle of international in-

Hastings Charges Violations

Probe Hearing Is SlatedWednesday

Minority party members of a special Common Council committee in deciding to meet with the police board without the presence of other committee members are violating "established principles of committee procedure," Alderman Donald M. Hastings (D) Third Ward, the committee's chairman charges in a statement released today.

A meeting of the police board, slated for Monday night, was postponed until 9 p. m. this date, because one of the commissioners was unable to attend last night.

Expected to Discuss Leak

A reported leak of information from a March 22 board meeting is expected to be discussed. The leak, as reported at an April 3 Common Council meeting, dealt with a reported statement by Mayor John J. Schwenk to the effect that commissioners on the board who did not agree with him could resign.

Commissioner Henry P. Eighmey, who had another meeting scheduled was unable to meet with the board last night, and Mayor Schwenk said he did not wish to hold the meeting unless all are present.

Republicans to Attend

Minority party members of the council committee Edward J. Schrowang (R) First Ward, and Clark W. Myers (R) Second Ward, said Monday that since it now appears that majority party members of the committee indicate that "their only interest is to discredit the mayor and his administration," they had decided "to take a more independent role," and will attend the board meeting.

It was announced Saturday that the full committee had decided not to attend the board meeting originally scheduled for Monday because it had decided to open a hearing Wednesday night in the city court room, city hall.

Charges Violations

In their decision to meet with the board, Hastings, claims, the minority party members have not only violated procedure," but also have "violated the agreements attained within the committee at its meeting of April 6 when it was agreed that the calling of witnesses and the schedule of hearing dates would be under control of the committee chairman."

This "independent role," he

Troopers Identify Body of Man in Ellenville Fire

ELLENVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—State Police today identified a charred body found here as that of Glen Mathews, about 45, of San Francisco, who had been employed as a handyman at the Thalia Hotel near Ellenville.

The body was found in the boiler room of Sam's Restaurant early Sunday after firemen had extinguished a blaze in the boiler room and adjoining kitchen.

The cause of the fire was not determined.

Teachers Put Off Strike, To Meet at 4

NEW YORK (AP)—A strike of public school teachers scheduled to begin today was postponed for at least a day in a stormy session of the United Federation of Teachers' delegate assembly.

The assembly, meeting until 3 a.m., voted to reject terms of a strike postponement proposal offered by the city and to hold a full membership meeting at 4 p.m. today to determine a course of action.

Could Affect Million Pupils

Charles Cogen, union president, said the action put off any walkout of the city's 40,000 public school teachers until Wednesday morning at the earliest.

Such a walkout could affect up to one million of the city's pupils.

The union's negotiating team had agreed Monday night to the city proposal, which included an agreement on wages and working conditions the negotiators had worked out with the Board of Education.

But when Cogen appeared before the delegate assembly at St. Nicholas Arena after midnight to plead for ratification of the agreement, he was greeted with cries of "strike, strike."

Cogen told the 700 assembly members that about $28 million is now available for salary raises and other benefits for the next fiscal year.

A storm of boos greeted this announcement. The teachers had asked $53 million.

$4,800-$8,600 Range

Present teachers' salaries range from $4,800 to $8,600 a year, with bonuses for special categories. The union sought to increase these figures to $5,400 to $9,500 a year, plus bonuses.

Cogen said the agreement also called for establishment of a three-man fact-finding committee.

"We were offered the proposition that there would be the pros-

10-Acre City Within a City

$20-Million Mart Opens In Downtown Rochester

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The shopping plaza, a symbol of suburbia, came to the big city today with the dedication of the $20-million Midtown Plaza in the heart of downtown Rochester.

The Plaza, brainstorm of two of the city's largest retail store owners, replaces 10 acres of a section of the city that had been in the late stages of urban decay.

Underground Garage

In place of parking lots, rundown buildings and dingy alleys, there has sprung two large department stores, 40 smaller shops and stores, an 18-story office building, a 7-acre, covered mall that features controlled temperatures, a bus terminal and an underground, city - owned garage with space for 1,900 automobiles.

About 70 per cent of the project was opened for business following the dedication ceremonies. The hotel, the tallest structure raised in the last 30 years, and its 14th-story restaurant, will be ready for occupancy sometime next month.

$8 Million More Taxes

The lower-level garage cost $9 million, but the city expects an estimated increase of $8 million from real estate taxes.

Gilbert J. C. Mc Curdy, president of Mc Curdy's & Co., and Maurice Forman, president of B. Forman Co., joined forces four years ago with the expressed purpose of halting the trend of downtown business to the suburbs. They formed the Midtown Holding Corp., of which Mc Curdy is president, to undertake the project.

City Welcomes Project

This city of more than 300,000, long a crusader against urban blight, welcomed the project with open arms and dove-tailed its renewal ideas with the Plaza planners.

State Comptroller Arthur Levitt and Mayor Henry E. Gillett were among those scheduled to clip the ribbons of the Plaza, which its backers call a "city within a city."

Mrs. J. B. Netter Is Candidate for Education Board

Mrs. Juletta B. Netter of 102 West Chestnut Street, today announced her candidacy for a position on the Kingston Board of Education. "I have been urged by friends, colleagues and former students to seek this position," Mrs. Netter said. "They feel that my 27 years in education gives me a first-hand knowledge of the needs of the children and of how our community can best meet these needs."

Mrs. Netter was born in Kingston, and attended St. Mary's School, Ulster Academy and New Paltz State Teachers College. She had been a head teacher at School No. 5 for 10 years before her appointment to the MJM School, from which she will retire this June. She is a member of the New York State Teachers Association, the New Paltz Alumni Association and the American Federation of Teachers.

3 Principal Groups

Mrs. Netter concluded, "There are three principal groups who deserve consideration in our educational plans. First, and most important, are the children. As a parent of three girls who are

Signs Are Castro Has 50,000 Locked in Jails

WASHINGTON (AP)—Reports from Cuba indicated today that the Castro regime has 50,000 political prisoners crowded into Cuban jails.

This was one of the considerations listed by U.S. officials in discussions by Washington authorities from President Kennedy down on Prime Minister Fidel Castro's offer to free the 1,179 Cuban invasion captives for $62 million.

The invaders who unsuccessfully attempted to topple Castro a year ago were Cuban refugees who had considerable U.S. support short of direct combat participation.

Estimate 200,000 Jailed

It was pointed out to newsmen here that the fate of other prisoners, who also contested Castro and in some cases may have suffered more than the invaders, should be considered too. It has been estimated that Castro jailed 200,000 persons in the wake of the invasion.

American officials said the Washington discussions have not resulted in the setting of any hard and fast U.S. policy on the invasion prisoners. Two general conclusions did emerge.

1. The U.S. government condemns as barbaric Castro's ransom offer and does not want to get into any deal with him involving a swap of money for human lives.

2. For humanitarian reasons, the U.S. government has no objection to voluntary actions by persons seeking on their own release of some or all of the captives.

The government has interposed no barrier to the trip to Havana, today by a delegation representing a committee of relatives of the invasion prisoners. The group hopes to negotiate with Castro.

Able to Send Money

In preliminary checking, American authorities also have uncovered no legal impediment to sending money to Cuba, even though from a foreign policy standpoint Washington wants to cut down on Castro's foreign exchange. Cuban refugees currently are able to send money to the folks back home.

Four representatives of the Cuban Families Committee flew from Miami to Havana today, although they have no assurance that they will be able to meet with Castro. Three of the four made a similar trip last August. They were unable to see Castro and finally left after a month in Cuba.

The committee has said it has $26 million in cash and pledges with which to begin negotiations for freedom of the prisoners.

Physician Admits Sale of '61 Exam, Returned $10,000

NEW YORK (AP)—A self-confessed middleman testified Monday that he sold the questions for the June 1961 State Medical Board examinations for $10,000 but returned the money the next day.

The middleman, Dr. Luigi Baviello, said he and his supplier returned the cash to the buyer because the State Department of Education had discovered the conspiracy.

Resale Planned

Baviello testified at the trial of Dr. Lucio J. Pepe, 40, and Dr. Pietro D'Alban, 36. The district attorney contends that Pepe received the examination from Dr. Stiles Ezell, former secretary of the State Board of Medical Examiners and a former president of the Orange County Medical Society.

The district attorney claims that Baviello sold the examination to D'Alba for $10,000 and he in turn had planned to resell it to four medical students for $2,500 each.

Baviello pleaded guilty to the misdemeanor charge of conspiracy to violate the state education law by possessing and selling the examination. D'Alba, who has not been admitted to practice here, and Pepe, who is licensed, both pleaded innocent.

Baviello, a 35-year-old bachelor, said he obtained the questions from Pepe in April 1961 by copying the examination by hand in Pepe's home in Brooklyn. He said he had four copies made and he destroyed the handwritten original.

He told the General Sessions Court he and Pepe also wrote out answers to the questions based on their research in textbooks. He said he first asked D'Alba for

Extra Tax Help

Noting that federal income tax returns must be filed by April 16, local district director James A. O'Hara today said that taxpayers needing assistance in preparing returns will be given additional help Saturday at the Internal Revenue Service office in the Central Post Office, Broadway and Prince Street, from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m.

Fatal Crash Occurs Today On Thruway

The first fatal accident on the New York State Thruway after the new 65-mile an hour speed limit went into effect at noon Monday, happened just north of New Paltz at 2 a. m. today and was not attributed to the increased speed limit.

Pierre Felix, 39, of 1485 Sterling Drive, Brooklyn, was pinned in his car and died of severe injuries when his car, parked on the driving strip due to a flat tire, was struck by a tractor-trailer.

The driver of the tractor-trailer milk truck, Conrad Weil, 37, of 208 Elm Street, Monroe, escaped injury.

Four passengers in the Felix car were thrown out and received severe injuries. All four were taken to Kingston Hospital by two Fatum Ambulance Service ambulances.

List of Injured

Those injured are:

Win Shelter After Building Their Own

WEST CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—The Edward Trosts worked evenings, weekends and through vacations to build a fallout shelter in their back yard.

They dug a huge pit, mixed mortar and placed concrete blocks. Then, the job done, they visited some other shelters on display at a downtown store.

Along with hundreds of others they filled out a card entitling them to a chance on a free shelter.

Yup. They won.

Gate Crasher Is Oscar Show Hit; Expected Arrest

By DORIS KLEIN

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The "worlds' champion gate crasher" has turned in perhaps his most peerless performance: stealing the show, before a national television audience, from the world's most accomplished scene stealers.

Sensation of Show

Stan Berman, 35, a New York taxi driver gifted with more brass than 76 trombones, was the sensation of an otherwise dull Academy Awards show Monday night. He came out of nowhere to outquip quip-king Bob Hope—in the middle of the Oscar telecast.

Striding authoritatively onstage as Shelley Winters and Vincent Edwards were presenting cinematography awards, he announced, "I'm the world's most famous gate crasher. I'm here to present Bob Hope with his 1938 award."

He plunked down a miniature reproduction of the gold statuettes —inscribed "to the world's greatest comedian from the world's greatest gate crasher" — and stalked off.

Second of Month

When emcee Hope recovered, he had this rebuttal: "What did we need Price-Waterhouse (Oscar ballot tabulators) for? What we need is a doorman."

Berman's stunt caps almost a lifetime devoted to insinuating himself into situations where he is not supposed to be. It was his second major coup in a month.

Loren, Schell, 'West Side' Win

Earthy War Refugee, Nazi Defender Are Top Roles

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Sexy Sophia Loren, stern-faced Maximilian Schell and splashy "West Side Story" go into the records as top winners of the 34th annual Academy Awards. But a sensational bit of gate-crashing stole the show.

Italy's Miss Loren is best actress. Vienna's Schell is best actor. Hollywood's "West Side Story" is best picture, winner of a near-record 10 Oscars. New York's Stan Berman retains his title as "world champion gate crasher."

Berman, 35, a cabbie who has made a career out of penetrating the impenetrable, stalked onto the stage in mid-telecast at Santa Monica Civic Auditorium, presented astonished emcee Bob Hope with an ersatz Oscar, and stalked off—leaving the film famous and a nation of onlookers flabbergasted.

The handsome Schell won for his role as the defender of Nazi war criminals in "Judgment at Nuremberg"—reaching the top despite the handicap of starting in the shadow of his famous sister, actress Maria Schell.

The voluptuous brunette Miss Loren won her Oscar in absentia for playing the earthy war refugee in the Italian production, "Two Women"—climaxing a rags-to-riches tale that began on the streets of Rome. Hers is the first Oscar to a role played in a language other than English.

It was the first time since 1939, when Britishers Vivien Leigh and Robert Donat triumphed, that two foreigners have come out on top. "West Side Story," a musical version of "Romeo and Juliet" set among the juvenile street gangs of New York, fell just one Oscar short of equaling the record of 11 set by "Ben-Hur" in 1959. Its sweep included support awards for George Chakiris and Rita Moreno, costume design, film editing, scoring of a musical, sound, color cinematography, art and set decoration.

SOPHIA LOREN

MAXIMILLIAN SCHELL

The show was plodding dully along, seeming especially tame after last year's dramatic win by Elizabeth Taylor—until Berman strode on stage in the midst of a presentation by Vince Edwards, television's Dr. Ben Casey, and Shelley Winters.

Berman grabbed a pint-sized Oscar and held it up and said, "This is Bob Hope's Oscar for 'The Big Broadcast of 1938.' To the world's greatest comedian from the world's greatest gate crasher."

Berman, who had his picture taken in the box with President Kennedy and his family at the inaugural gala, said stage crashing is a pushover.

"All you need is a tuxedo and the appearance of looking as if you belong," he said.

Miss Loren didn't come for the awards, saying she was "too tired and too scared I might lose."

Schell flew in over the weekend from Germany. Chakiris came in from Hawaii and Miss Moreno spent 18 hours on a plane flying from a movie location in the Philippines.

Mollenhauer Will Be BackHomeWednesday

Town of Rosendale Supervisor George Mollenhauer, a patient at Albany Medical Center since April 2, is being discharged today and will be at his home Wednesday.

This was the information Mrs. Mollenhauer gave The Freeman today, and, she added, he will be able to have visitors tomorrow.

Supervisor Mollenhauer was admitted to Benedictine Hospital here on March 21 and later transferred to Albany. It was found that cerebral surgery was not necessary.

Glenn Disagrees on Paint Flecks, Gets New Citation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. doesn't believe the "fireflies" he saw during his orbital flight were flecks of paint from his space capsule.

This theory was put forward last week by some officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

But Glenn disagreed Monday night and said, "We will have to wait more information on the next flight."

Glenn addressed an audience of 6,000 at the National Guard armory where America's space Columbus received the Hubbard Medal—an emblem won by only a score of the century's foremost explorers.

Glenn's citation reads: "For extraordinary contributions to scientific knowledge of the world and beyond as a pioneer in exploring the ocean of space."

Dr. Melville Bell Grosvenor, president and editor of the National Geographic Society, ranked Glenn's achievement "with those of the great explorers who have gone before him—Columbus, Magellan—"

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson presented the medal—named for Gardiner Greene Hubbard, first president of the National Geographic Society. It has been awarded to only 20 other men since it was struck in 1906.

The first winner was Adm. Robert E. Peary, discoverer of the North Pole. Others were Adm. Richard E. Byrd, Charles Lindbergh and Sir Edmund Hillary, conquerer of Mt. Everest.

Glenn gave an account of his flight and showed the official color film of the "Friendship 7's" voyage.

He also brought up the theory of the paint flecks.

Glenn said that after watching the particles glowing in the sunrise for about four minutes on each of his first two orbits while riding backward, he turned the capsule around on the third orbit.

This time, he said, there were only about 10 per cent as many particles, but they still were numerous and some seemed to be coming toward him from a considerable distance.

Other States Move to Keep Teeners Out of N. Y. Bars

NEW YORK (AP)—New York's teen-agers are not likely to have their drinking habits changed to fit those of other states, but their counterparts across the state's borders are finding it harder to behave like New Yorkers.

The pressure on New York's Gov. Rockefeller and the legislature from the officials of neighboring states to raise New York's drinking age is not off. But it does show signs of being discouraged.

Officials of New Jersey, Connecticut and Massachusetts, particularly, are beinning to concentrate on keeping their own teenagers out of New York—or at least out of New York's bars.

The long - standing dispute grows out of the fact that New York law permits anyone 18 or older to drink whatever bars and package stores have to offer—although enforcement of the 18-year limit is strict.

All the complaining states — which also include Vermont and Pennsylvania — prohibit buying liquor before the age of 21.

In the nature of things, many 18-to-20 year-olds from the adjoining states drive over the line to New York taverns to do their drinking.

Govs. John N. Dempsey of Connecticut, Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey and David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania all have sent personal messages to Rockefeller urging him to seek legislation to raise New York's drinking age to 21.

Local police, church, parent-teacher and other civic groups all along New York's state line have made similar pleas.

But New York, which has allowed 18-year-olds to drink ever since repeal of Prohibition and heard voices raised in protest against the policy over the years, shows no inclination for change.

It is seldom mentioned in the legislative halls, and Rockefeller has made it obvious he doesn't want to become involved—except to describe teen-age drinking as mainly a problem for parents.

A legislative committee that aired the subject last year has

Leaders Feel Churches Are Ready for Merger

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leaders of four major Protestant denominations meeting here to discuss consolidation say their churches are essentially ready for concrete steps in that direction.

The concensus emerged after the first round of talks Monday between representatives of the Methodist Church, the Protestant Episcopal Church, the United Presbyterian Church and the United Church of Christ. The churches represent nearly 20 million members.

The conference, called to determine whether plans can be made for continued efforts at church reunion, ends today.

"The climate (for union) is more encouraging than at any time in the past 500 years," said Episcopal Bishop Robert F. Gibson Jr., of Richmond, Va., head of his church's delegation.

"Factors in the contemporary situation have created a genuine possibility for a break-through," said the Rev. Dr. John P. Dillenberger, of Drew Univeristy, Madison, N.J.

It was a general analysis by Dr. Dillenberger, a United Church of Christ theologian who teaches at a Methodist institution, that produced the reported concurrence of all sides that the time has come to resume old ties.

"In theology, we have moved closer and closer together," Dr. Dillenberger said. "Difference in essentials has all but disappeared. Culturally, the same thing has happened."

Nevertheless, fine distinctions in faith and practice remain, and whether means can be found to overcome, or absorb these differences is a central question.

In any case, churchmen said it will be a long process, at least 10 years and probably more, even with steady progress.

The Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake of Philadelphia, chief executive of the United Presbyterian Church, noted that any solutions not only must win support of church representatives, but of their memberships.

Worker Killed At East Windham

A Hudson Falls man who had been engaged in construction work for 50 years was killed Monday while working on a road construction job on Route 23 near East Windham. Joseph Marchese, 67, was fatally injured when he was knocked to the ground by a pipe that fell 10 feet after a chain slipped.

Marchese was a foreman for the Greene Island Contracting Company of Watervliet. Taken to Greene County Memorial Hospital he was pronounced dead on arrival. Coroner Edwin Mulberry withheld a verdict. Marchese was a native of Italy and is survived by his wife and two sons.

Teachers Put

pect of additional money that might become available," he said.

Although the union has only 15,000 members, it is the bargaining agent for all 40,000 teachers. Cogen has estimated that at least 30,000 would participate in a strike.

Schools Superintendent John J. Theobald has said he would recruit parents to man classrooms in an attempt to keep the educational system functioning despite a strike.

One parent—Harold L. Friedman, father of two children who attend a public school in Flushing, Queens — obtained a temporary restraining order against the strike from acting State Supreme Court Justice James A. Roe Jr.

Order Not Served

But the order, granted Monday, still had not been served on the union. And there was no indication of whether the union would heed the order, or go ahead with the walkout and risk contempt of court action.

A state law, the Condon-Wadlin Act, bans strikes by public employes. And State Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr., has advised teachers that it would be enforced in the event of a strike. The low provides for instant dismissal. Violators may be rehired, but with loss of certain pay increase and tenure rights.

However, the law has seldom been invoked, and its constitutionality has never been tested.

Negotiations between the city Board of Education and the union have been complicated by a running dispute over state school aid between Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner and Republican Gov. Rockefeller.

Wagner accused the state of shortchanging the city by $48.6 million, leaving the city to bargain with the union with "an empty cash box." Rockefeller called the charge "political fakery" and said the threatened strike was Wagner's problem.

However, the state offered a $12 to $17-million advance in school aid funds Monday in an effort to head off a walkout.

Picked Up in Stolen Auto

State police from the Wurtsboro station arrested John Albert of New York on a charge of operating a stolen car. The car was reported stolen in New York, and the arrest was made on Route 17 Monday.

Physician Admits

$20,000 but later lowered the price to $10,000.

However, when D'Alba could raise only $10,000, Baviello said he supplied only about half of the questions. He testified he did not know how much D'Alba had demanded and knew only one of four medical students who had agreed to buy the questions.

Baviello was insistent, under cross-examination, that Pepe said Ezell had supplied the original questions, although neither Ezell nor D'Alba received any of the money.

The trial, which is now in its second week, also heard testimony from Dr. Harold W. Brown of Dobbs Ferry, president of the State Board of Medical Examiners.

Brown said that each of the nine medical examiners write questions for the examination on different subjects. He said his section, on preventive medicine and public health, was given to Ezell to take to Albany.

In order to buttress the charge that Ezell had the opportunity to copy the questions and pass them on, the district attorney has called several witnesses from the State Department of Education.

Reds Say Saboteurs Destroyed U. S. Craft

TOKYO (AP)—The Communist New China News Agency said today five American airplanes were destroyed on the ground in Laos by saboteurs on April 3.

Quoting the radio of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao, the Red Chinese agency said the planes were "burned out on April 3 during a storm by people who found a way into the airport."

The report indicated the airport was in Savannakhet Province in southern Laos but gave no other details.

U.S., Britain

spection as a means for policing a test ban. In the view of the Western powers a treaty without adequate verification to guarantee against cheating would be undependable. Therefore, the statement argued, the whole issue turns on Russia's rejection of the principle of objective international verification.

Puts Action Up to Reds

The declaration obviously was designed to place upon the Soviet government the responsibility for the resumption of the nuclear arms development race.

The Soviets last September ended a three-year moratorium on weapons testing with a series of about 50 atmospheric explosions.

Kennedy reported later that they had made gains in the improvement of nuclear weapons.

Without a reliable prohibition on further testing, Kennedy said, the United States would also have to conduct atmospheric tests in addition to the small underground explosions it began last fall.

The U.S.-British statement said the heart of the problem now is that Soviet representatives "have rejected international inspection or verification inside the Soviet Union to determine the nature of unexplained seismic events (earth shocks) which might be nuclear tests."

The two Western powers asserted that international inspection is "an essential element for assuring that a ban on nuclear tests is being observed by all parties."

During three-power negotiations on a nuclear test ban treaty beginning in 1958 the Soviets first accepted the concept of international inspection, the statement said, but more recently they have abandoned that position and rejected any kind of international verification on Soviet territory.

Verification Vital

"The ground given," the statement said, "seems to be that existing national detection systems can give adequate protection against clandestine tests.

"In the present state of scientific instrumentation there are a great many cases in which we cannot distinguish between natural and artificial seismic disturbances."

Since many areas of the world are subject to frequent earth shocks one objective of an inspection system would be to check on tremors to make sure they were earthquakes and not secret underground nuclear tests.

"A treaty therefore cannot be made effective unless adequate verification is included in it," the United States and Britain declared, "for otherwise there would be no alternative if an instrument reported an unexplained seismic occurrence on either side, between accepting the possibility of an evasion of the treaty or its immediate denunciation.

"The opportunity for adequate verification is of the very essence of mutual confidence."

It was understood that the U.S. and British leaders were under no illusions that their words would cause the Kremlin to about-face in its stiff opposition to international controls which the Western powers say are needed to make such a test ban workable.

They were known to feel that the Western case for resuming tests should carry with it as much support as possible in world opinion.

The Soviets broke an atomic test moratorium that had been in existence since 1958 with a massive series of more than 40 shots last fall. Unless the Soviets agree to a test ban with adequate safeguards against cheating, the West must resume its nuclear testing for its own security.

Kennedy has ordered U.S. atmospheric blasts resumed unless the Soviets come to terms on a treaty acceptable to the United States and Britain. The Russians showed no sign of doing this at a three-nation subcommittee meeting at the Geneva disarmament conference Monday.

In an exchange between U.S. delegate Arthur H. Dean and Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin, Dean made plain that the U.S. atmospheric tests will be held if the Russians don't sign an enforceable treaty.

Tsarapkin refused to budge from Moscow's contention that the West's proposed controls are designed to put spies into the Soviet Union.

The Soviets have declared they will start still another series if the Americans go ahead with the April tests.

The Atomic Energy Commission and the Defense Department designated a second testing area in the Pacific Monday. It is centered on the Johnston Island coordinate, about 1,000 miles west-southwest of Hawaii.

Another testing area was established April 4. It centers on Christmas Island about 1,300 miles due south of Honolulu.

Mayr Faces Auto Theft, Jail Wood For Punching Cop

A young man was charged with the theft of a car Wednesday afternoon and another was booked last night on charges of disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

Richard L. Mayr, 24, of 672 Broadway was arrested by Detectives Harold DeGraff and Albert Hutton on a second degree grand larceny charge after investigation of the theft of a car owned by John Fleming, of 122 Chambers Street, Sunday night.

The car, police said, was found abandoned in a ditch at Southfield. Mayr and another young man who rode with him, they said, hitch-hiked back to Kingston after leaving the car, which, it was said, had run out of gas.

City Judge Joseph D. Saccoman today put the case over to April 24. Bail, fixed at $1,000, was posted. Former City Judge Aaron E. Klein appeared for the defendant.

Samuel Wood Jr., 22, of RD 4, Box 265, Kingston, charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest, was sentenced to 60 days on the latter charge and 30 days on the other to be served concurrently.

The arrest followed a complaint to police by a man who said "three fellows" had threatened to "punch him in the mouth." Officers Robert Bonesteel and Frank Stip were dispatched to investigate.

They said they approached the three as they were going into a restaurant, on central Broadway and as they were talking to them, they said, Wood "started calling Stip names." He was told he was under arrest on a disorderly conduct charge, and then, the report said, he punched Stip in the face.

The officers had to subdue him to bring him to police headquarters, and he caused considerable damage when he was put in a detention cell, the report said.

James Kearney, 68, of 245 Broadway, charged with third degree assaut by his wife, Tillie, was given a suspended jail sentence of 60 days.

Fatal Crash

Street, Brooklyn, fractured pelvis, possible concussion, contusions, fractured leg and body injuries.

All but Baptiste were reported in "fair" condition at the hospital today. The condition of Baptiste was reported as "serious."

Carried 40 Feet

Trooper Norman Kilfoyle who investigated, reported the Felix car was parked on the northbound driving lane. The tractor-trailer was proceeding north in the driving lane and Weil failed to see the parked car. His truck struck the car on the left rear, forcing it over and striking it broadside. The car was carried some 40 feet by the truck before it went off the road and the truck traveled on past for some distance north and went into the ditch where it jackknifed.

Coroner Francis J. McCardle was called and withheld a verdict pending a post-mortem. There was no arrest.

Brenhouse Faced With Heavy Tax Claims: Report

HASTINGS-ON-HUDSON, N. Y. (AP)—Maitland Brenhouse, financial manipulator slain in his fashionable home last week, was faced by $1.9 million in federal tax claims, authorities say.

Tax records made public Monday showed a claim of $864,000 in personal income tax claims against Brenhouse for the years 1954-57. The remainder of the claims were for corporate taxes against some 13 companies he controlled.

Brenhouse, 50, a former college economics teacher, was found dead of a single bullet in the head last Thursday.

Vote to Buy Fire Truck

Fishkill village voters have approved a $32,000 bond issue for the purchase of a new Ward LaFrance fire truck, fire equipment and improvements in the district's fire alarm. The truck will cost $24,961 and the balance of the $32,000 will be used for the equipment and improvement. The new truck will replace a 25-year-old pumper, and is expected to be in service next fall. The bond issue, approved recently by a vote of 109 to 4, will include installation of three additional sirens.

Issue 27 Summonses

Kingston state police issued 27 summonses Monday at radar check stations in Towns of Saugerties, Ulster and Esopus. Assigned to the detail were Troopers Thomas J. Crowley, Joel Rosenshein and Donald Cole.

Joy Named Again As Sawkill Chief, Other Business

Chief Francis Joy was unanimously re-elected chief of the Sawkill Volunteer Fire Company Monday night at a meeting of the fire company.

Each April the firemanic officers are elected for one year by the members of the volunteer companies, subject to approval of the Board of Fire Commissioners.

Also re-elected were:

John Reichert, assistant chief; George Leedecke, first lieutenant; John Duffy, second lieutenant. Wayne Burton, the former Fire Police Chief, requested that he not be reappointed as the younger available men were needed for the actual fire fighting.

It was pointed out that if the older less active men were used as Fire Police the available manpower would be more effectively used.

To Reorganize Force

Paul Burton was appointed Fire Police Chief and requested to reorganize the fire police in accordance with the previous suggestion. The officers are chosen on the basis of their training, experience and availability.

Plans were laid for the monthly meeting of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association which will be held Tuesday, April 17, with Sawkill acting as host company. Among the plans is the presentation of a training film.

Bids will be received for painting the firehouse floor.

Call in Time Urged

In a review of calls for assistance in emergencies, it was noted that people frequently jeopardize life and property by delay in calling the fire company. It was agreed that it is better to be called promptly and then not be actually needed, than to be called too late, and disaster result. It was also noted that a more factual observance of fires by those reporting then could be of help.

It was pointed out that in one reported fire, it was only a farmer who was safely burning brush and in another case lightning was mistaken for fire. Members of the company, however, expressed their willingness to respond for safety sake.

Help in Other Emergencies

It was also reported that in addition to fire calls during the past month, there have been several summons for aid in emergency flooding caused by snow and rain. The successful use of the company's resuscitator recently was also noted. It was also reported that the fire phone for the Sawkill Protection District is now FE 1-9663.

Chief Joy was questioned concerning the proper type of incinerators which he would approve. It was noted that several fires had their source in overloaded trash barrels, with the wind scattering the burning embers. Any outdoor incinerator must have the protection of a fine mesh screening to prevent flaming embers from leaving the device. It was also pointed out that unattended incinerators have resulted in needless fires. Persons using incinerators must be present while trash is burning, it was stressed.

Hastings Charges

said, was "illegal and contrary to the committee policy." The minority party members are due to meet with the board tonight.

"In doing the bidding of the mayor by submitting to his demands that this committee meet with the police board when the mayor dictates," Hastings said, "these aldermen do an injustice to the Common Council which is and should remain a separate branch of city government, not subject to any mayor's direction. This is doubly true when the mayor is himself one of those involved in the matter, and who, in all probability will be a material witness.

To Call Witnesses

"This committee," he said, "has been charged by the council with the solemn obligation, which it intends to discharge in an orderly and lawful manner. The Republican Party, is by the actions of these aldermen, attempting to make a political football out of these hearings. The committee does not intend to permit them to do so. Witnesses, including the police commissioners, will be called in an orderly manner so as to suit their convenience and that of the committee insofar as is consistent with this committee's duties."

Hastings reaffirmed the committee's "intention to obey its mandate from the council and to commence its hearings Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the city court room."

Hague Baby Discharged

Howard Raymond Hague, 22-months-old son of Delores and Randolph Hague of Sunset Terrace, Town of Hurley, who was struck by a car backing into the Hague driveway, was discharged from Benedictine Hospital Sunday. The baby was reported injured on Friday afternoon, and according to state police suffered a slight fractured pelvis. Troopers said Mrs. Mary E. Gross, 34, a neighbor was driving the car when the mishap occurred.

Memoriam

In loving memory of Robert J. Sauers, who passed away 1 year ago today, April 10, 1961.

We often think of you dear,
And then of how you died;
To think you could not say goodbye
Before you closed your eyes;
The blow was hard, the shock severe,
We never thought your death was near;
But only those that have lost can tell
The pain of parting without farewell.

Signed
GRAM, MARY and ROBERT LEE.

Memoriam

In loving memory of Robert J. Sauers, who passed away one year ago today, April 10, 1961.

What we would give to see you smile
And sit with you and talk awhile.
The blow was sudden, the shock severe
To part with you so kind and dear.
Day and night we think of you
The things you used to say and do
We wonder why you had to die

Area Holstein Produces Record 30,151 Pounds

A registered Holstein cow owned by Fred H. Dorn of North Chatham, has completed an annual production record of more than 30,000 pounds of milk in the official Herd Testing program of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Actual 365 day production of Doreigh Farms Ideal Linda totalled 30,151 pounds of milk and 1,078 pounds of butterfat. She started her record at the age of 10 years and 11 months. Milked twice a day, she averaged 38 quarts of milk daily throughout her test period. The Dorn Holstein's production is more than five times that of the average dairy cow. The record was made under the rules of Herd Improvement Registry and was supervised by Cornell University.

Four New York Holstein bulls have been designated Silver Medal Production Sires by Holstein-Friesian Association of America. They are Poestenkill Sensation Marathon, owned by Beaver Creek Farm, Claverack and John H. Holser of Troy; Big Rock Ormsby Triune, owned by Arthur L. Davis of Greene; Dun-Mar-Lea Dunloggin Montvic, owned by Gates Homestead Farms of Chittenango and Mathewsfield Jewel, owned by Max Menendez & Sons of Walden. The award is based on the production of a bull's registered daughters on official test as compared with that of their dams and with production level of the entire Holstein herd. At least 10 pairs of daughters and dams must figure in the comparisons with the daughters having a total of at least 15 official production records in the Advanced Registry, Herd Improvement Registry or Dairy Herd Improvement Registry testing programs.

Marist College Plans Boathouse

Plans for construction of a boathouse for Marist College south of Regatta Row, Poughkeepsie, have begun, according to Brother Daniel Kirk, FMS, acting president of the college, who said the structure will cost at least $40,000.

Brother Daniel said $10,000 will be furnished by the college and the balance will be raised by a citizens' committee headed by John K. Rinaldi, chairman.

The college was encouraged to proceed with the plans for the boathouse by the response to the crew call at the college this spring, when 50 candidates responded, Brother Daniel said.

Brother Daniel noted that the new boathouse would be open to use by schoolboy crews. It is designed to accommodate 12 shells and provide sleeping accommodations for 14 persons. Shower and workroom facilities will be included in the plans.

WAKE UP AND READ

National Library Week currently is being observed here with special programs. Historical documents celebrating Kingston's history will be unveiled and there will be a display of art work.

Another highlight will be a door to door membership drive by the Kingston Key Club aided by members of the Prisma Society. This drive affords citizens an opportunity to share in the work of the local library.

A good deal has been sadly but necessarily written about the inadequacy of American libraries in many areas and the total lack of them in many others. It is pleasant, therefore, to have some cheerful news about libraries and reading. This year more than 9,000 public, private and special libraries will join forces with a total of 50 national organizations in promoting reading and library service.

Often you hear people try to make a sharp distinction between those who "do things" and those who "merely read and hear about things."

The idea is pressed, in other words, that men of action either do not or should not take time to read and listen, while readers and listeners don't act.

Certainly we have among us many highly charged individuals who can't sit down long enough to read a newspaper, let alone a book. And just as surely there are plenty of passive folk who shrink from the clanging world of action and seek refuge in the printed word.

But basically the distinction is artificial. The intelligent man of action will not say he should not read, and the reflective person will not imagine he can hide safely behind a book.

The two worlds belong together.

Life is a blend of action and of reflection, study, stock-taking, and planning.

Unfold your newspaper or open your book and horizons stretch out of sight before you. From the urgent bulletins which report our progress along the ledge between peace and war, prosperity and depression, order and chaos, you can move in the flash of an eye to distant places or to the high reaches of philosophic thought.

The man who "does things" will do them better, be a better human being, too, if he expands his own world to include knowledge of what others, here and in many lands, do and feel and think. To cast the same broad glance back into the past gives him still greater enlargement.

The experiences of other men, of other places, now and in other times, build impressively upon the foundation structure of your life.

Without them the structure will be low and small. You will have put rigid, arbitrary ceiling limits upon what you may achieve and what you may enjoy. You may have action, but it will be narrow, shallow, repetitive.

The building materials for bigger, more rewarding living lie at your finger tips. The moment you reach out and grasp your newspaper or a magazine or book, you have begun to build.

Scientists and congressional leaders are speculating about the possibility of life on other planets. There is some speculation, too, about how long life will continue on this cne.

Prospects of U.S.-Russian co-operation in certain aspects of space research should not obscure the fact that this nation is already working with and making scientific information available to half a hundred countries.

This mutual effort ranges from weather research to satellite tracking to man in space. U.S. help will enable Britain to launch her first satellite, the S-51, this spring. In a few months, a Canadian-built satellite, Alouette I, will be launched with an American booster.

Space co-operation? It's an American tradition.

DISCONTENT

The sudden exuberance of movements is undoubtedly due to discontent and unhappiness, particularly among older folks and professional men and women. This discontent expresses itself in many ways and may easily become explosive, particularly should this country suffer from excessive unemployment and a lessening of income from small investments.

Much of the discontent is reflected by stimulated and accelerated movements which must be regarded as selfishly organized by pitchmen and money-grubbers. But that does not explain why so many fine and intelligent persons join some of the wildest movements, both Communist and Ultra-Rightist. Only discontented persons can believe much of the inaccurate and untruthful literature scattered about as evidence of schemes and plots which do not exist. Using tactics long practiced by Communists, the Ultra-Rightists smear and defame even those who are most actively anti-Communist, in order that they may spread their own line more effectively.

The hearing of General Edwin Walker was a sad display of unprepared assertions. There is no question in my mind but that the general was jobbed. If he committed a military wrong, he should have been court-martialed, in which circumstance, he would have been protected by law. At the Congressional hearing, he seemed not only unprepared but confused and his statements, as reported in the press, indicated that he made charges which he could not substantiate. It was an unfortunate performance by a man who had had a noble career in the service of his country. It has done the conservative cause great harm because mere assertion without substantiation leads to ridicule and renunciation.

Regarding the Left, Attorney General Robert Kennedy said in Los Angeles:

The greatest danger is not from the Communist Party, but from the espionage committed by representatives of the Communist-bloc countries here."

He also said that the American Communist Party has "no following and has been disregarded by the American people for many, many years.'

Such statements are true and although they seem to contradict others made by J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI, who makes the correct point that in any analysis of the Communist situation, numbers do not count, he also holds that the greatest menace of the Party is its service as an espionage force for Soviet Russia. I find that these apparent differences of view are identical but each puts the emphasis on one phase of the problem.

Out of these statements, both Leftists and Ultra-Rightists have attemped to make a great issue and to give the impression that a fundamental quarrel exists between the Attorney General and the Director of the FBI. I can discover no such quarrel or any vast difference of opinion. Only those who are looking for a fight or who would like to see one, attempt to make five out of two plus two.

The law now requires the registration of the Communist Party and the indictment of its officers who fail to obey the law. Two have been brought to the courts. The preparation of a case, so that it will hold up in the courts under the rules of evidence, takes some doing and it does not matter what you or I or everybody knows to be true, under our system of law the case must be substantiated by permissible evidence. If one case is lost, a precedent is set for other cases. Therefore, the wheels of justice grind slowly. But they do grind.

The FBI, under J. Edgar Hoover, has achieved much in the exposure of Communists. If the Department of Justice prefers to hit at those engaged in espionage rather than those devoted to agitation, it probably finds it more facile to take cases into court that way. This does not represent a conflict of ideas or methods; it simply means that one agency investigates, the other prosecutes in a court. The same is true in the handling of dope cases. It took something like seven appeals before the Rosenbergs were punished; Alger Hiss had two trials and is probably seeking another.

This does not represent inefficienty. It means that as a nation we seek justice and give every man his best chance under the law. This is justice at its best. Unless we had such a system, the innocent, as well as the guilty, would suffer.

Spots Before the Eyes: Signal to See Doctor

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—What causes spots before the eyes? Can they lead to blindness?

A—To answer the second question first, spots before the eyes are rarely a threat to visual sharpness. As to causes, they differ. For example, almost everyone notices dark floaters after fatigue or eye strain. So long as these are not persistent, they need no particular attention especially if the cause is apparent.

However, if they persist and are not due to obvious strain or excessive use of tobacco, they require investigation since they may be an early manifestation of glaucoma ("hardening of the eye"). This, your ophthalmologist or eye specialis can detect by measuring eyeball tension. The importance of this examination rests in the fact, by early detection of glaucoma and effective use of eye drops and drugs taken by mouth, the condition can be controlled and eyesight saved.

Q—I have a rash all over my body. I heard the skin specialist at the clinic say it was "cigarette paper." But I don't smoke. Do you know what it could be?

A—You probably have a very annoying but harmless condition called pityriasis rosea. The rose-red patches you see have a crinkled appearance that resembles cigarette papers formerly usd to hand-roll the "makings." However, the condition has nothing to do with tobacco or smoking. Ordinarily, pityriasis blooms in the spring for some reason of which we are ignorant. It lasts many weeks with or without treatment. It goes away by itself for reasons of which we are also ignorant. Sorry for this display of ignorance but it may keep you from spending your hard-earned money chasing a cure.

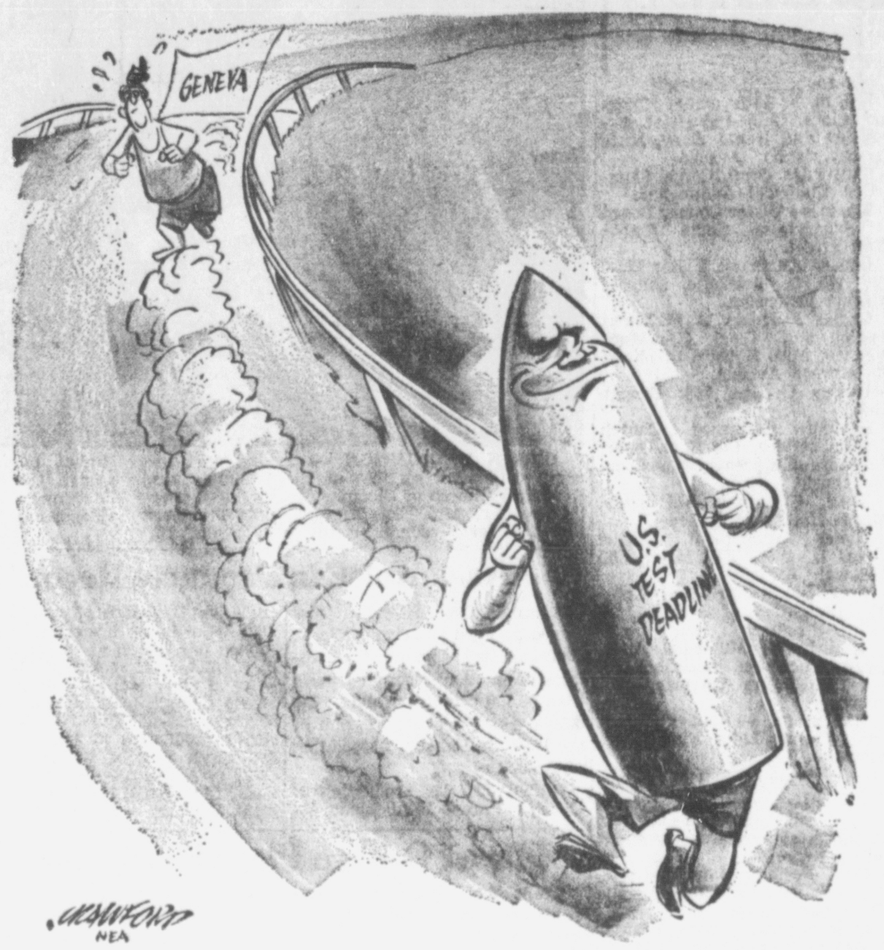

Q—Some time ago you wrote of facilities for the blind. Would you repeat these for the benefit of my daughter who has been blind since birth and others who may have misplaced this information?

A—By addressing the Talking Book Program of the Library of Congress, Washington, D. C., you will receoive information that will permit your daughter to receive free of charge one of the 50,000 Taking Book machines that plays records at speeds of 33 1/3 and 16 2/3 revolutions per minute. Also a catalogue that lists a wide selection of recordings that will be mailed, on application, just like books from a circulating library.

In conjunction with this government project, a private non-profit organization called Recordings for the Blind (121 E. 58th St., New York 22, N. Y.) also has a list of educational, text and recreational records as well as readings from daily newspapers. These are read by well-known actors, actresses and radio and television commentators whose voices are familiar to most listeners. Recordings for the Blind distributes its records through 14 units scattered throughout the country. Charges are nominal particularly in the case of students.

Please send your questions and comments to Dr. Harold Thomas Hyman, M.D., in care of this paper. He will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

No Contest So Far

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — There's a deadly parallel between U. S. congressional reluctance of Latin-American congresses to enact land, tax and other governmental reforms considered necessary for the success of the Alliance for Progress.

There is plenty of Washington criticism of Latin-American oligarchies. Some of the most bitter critics of all U. S. foreign aid programs would gladly see all grants and loans for Latin-American countries held up until they learn how to democratize and govern themselves responsibly.

Latin Americans neglect of their working people, their enforced poverty, disease and lack of educational opportunity are decried.

Unwillingness of the rich, land-owning class to pay higher taxes is castigated. Their refusal to sell excessive holdings so that more of the predominantly rural population can own the land they work is held a primary cause of the low per capita income rates and the low standard of living.

Refusal of the rich to invest in the development of their own countries is cited as a principal reason they are underdeveloped, though possessing vast natural resources.

AND YET, IF THEY WANTED TO, the Latinos can point to their rich Uncle to the North and ask pointedly why he doesn't set his own house in better order before censuring others.

This year the United States is observing the centennial of the great Civil war that was fought to abolish slavery, establish freedom and equal opportunity for all.

But only now—100 years later—has the U. S. Senate approved a constitutional amendment to abolish poll taxes as a requirement for voting in federal elections. Whether it will pass the Houe is doubtful.

The proposition that literacy tests be abolished as a qualification for voting by those having sixth grade education has an even more uncertain future. And a presidential proposal that an attack be made on adult illiteracy in the United States is not yet assured of pasage.

Situations like these make it difficult for North Americans to look with such horror on the illiteracy of Latin America where literacy tests deprive even more millions of voting rights.

THE U. S. SUPREME COURT decision in the Tennessee Legislature apportionment case points up another major deficiency in the great American democratic system which is even older than the Civil War.

As the U. S. Civil Rights Commission reported last fall:

"In most States, voting districts for federal and state legislators are so unequal as to cause gross disproportion in representation." At least 40 of the 50 states may be so involved, including most, if not all, of the 13 original states.

Civil Rights Commission recommended that, "a federal law be passed to require that voting districts be substantially equal in population." But there is little likelihood that such a reform will be passed this year.

In fact, President Kennedy's reorganization plan to establish a Department of Urban Affairs in the federal government to look after some of the problems of growing city population was turned down by Congress earlier this year.

THE RECORD OF the present Congress shows bitter opposition to many other long-recognized and long-needed reforms:

Tax reform to close loopholes that benefit special privilege; land reform to take out of production marginal acres responsible for unmarketable surpluses; public works programs to help the unemployed in surplus labor market areas, aid to education; health care for the aged; stimulation and stabilation of the economy to cushion the effect of recessions and help reduce poverty.

All these are unnecessary evils existing in far greater degree in Latin America than in the United States.

North Americans want the South and Central Americans to make reforms in a hurry.

Hardship for Investors Feared in Dividend Tax

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — If Uncle Sam orders a bank to take away from a depositor money that belong to him and isn't owed to the government as income tax, can this become an illegal act for which public officials could be required to stand trial? The question arises as a result of the plight of many citizens of small income who are being told that, under a bill which has just passed House of Representatives and is before the Senate, the government can order a bank or company to withhold a certain percentage of interest or dividends although there may not be an equivalent amount due in taxes. The effect of this action is described in a letter received from a woman in Atlanta, Ga., which reads as follows:

"I wish to call your attention to one harmful feature of the proposed withholding of 20 per cent on stock dividends and which I have not seen mentioned in the news—that is, the effect it has on the man who owes just a small tax. It seems that if a man owes no tax, he may file an exemption certificate. But there is no relief for the man who owes just a small tax. My family is in the latter group.

"Our taxable income is approximately $4,200 a year, all of it derived from dividends on stocks. My husband and I are past 65 years of age and therefore have double exemptions of $1,2000 each—a total of $2,400. We also have a retirement exemption, a 4 per cent credit on dividends, as well as other deductible items. Our taxes amount to something like $50 a year, or less. Yet the Administration proposes to withhold from our modest income the sum of $840.

Called Confiscation

"What moral or legal right does it have to do such a thing? Except for the taxes we owe, that money is ours. It does not belong to the government, nor to anyone else. If the government withholds from us money we do not owe, that is confiscation. Promise of a refund does not alter this fact."

It is possible that many citizens will begin depositing their money in foreign banks or investing in securities in Canada and other countries which are not bound by American law to deduct interest or dividend payments. It's all very well to say refunds will be made by the Federal government here, but red tape could consume months of time, especially as it means singling out hundreds of thousands of income tax returns and giving them a special audit before paying the refunds. Also doesn't the government really owe the taxpayer interest for the period it deprives him of a chance to earn interest on his own money?

It is possible, too, that the Administration may find itself in a legal tangle it has never faced before—an attempt by corporations and other institutions to obtain from the U. S. Treasury full payment of all expenses incurred in withholding interest and dividend payments. For this involves keeping additional records, notifying the government of the exact amount for which each taxpayer is to be credited and also providing the taxpayer with information as to what has been done with each quarter's payment of interest to him. All this will mean an enormous expense for American business and financial institutions.

Headaches Ahead

It does not help much to say that a tax deduction is permissible as a business expense for such companies. For this would take care of only $52 out of every $100 expended. Since the corporate tax rate is 52 per cent, how will a company or financial institution get back the other $48 of the expenses which it has incurred solely for the benefit of the United States government?

It will be argued that the withholding of taxes on salaries and wages has already become accepted and that the expenses of this are borne in part by the companies and in part by the Treasury through the corporate-tax deduction process. But while there is some merit in this because of the relationship of employer and employe — with the worker setting his own withholding rate on the basis of estimated tax liability — this does not apply in the case of a bank, which performs an investment service for the depositor. Likewise, the stockholder who receives dividends is not an employe but an investor and the company pays the dividend for the use of the money.

Members of Congress are beginning to become aware of the headaches that face them in the coming elections if they vote in favor of the new bill. Already the mail to Senators, who now have the bill before them, is of an unprecendented size. Citizens are bewildered. Persons of small income are disturbed that they should be deprived even for a single month of the use of their own money, to which it later may turn out that the government wasn't entitled at all.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

I have the Gazetteer and Business Directory of Ulster County, N. Y. for 1871-2 compiled and published by Hamilton Child, who did many other New York state counties. This remarkable book was loaned to me by Attorney Martin Comeau. Captain Andrew Hickey USN (ret.) arranged the loan. Here are some items from the Gazetteer of Towns page 82.

"South Rondout, situated in the south side of Rondout Creek, contains a malt house, a brewery, four groceries, a manufactory of lime, a schoolhouse and about 400 inhabitants." I take that to be George Von Beck's malt house and brewery. "Sleightsburg, near the mouth of Rondout Creek, contains a store, a shipyard, a schoolhouse and about 200 inhabitants. A steam ferry connects it with Rondout on the opposite side of the creek." I wonder if that was the Sleight Bros. store. The steam ferry, was the Skillypot. Notice they both had their schoolhouses, a community of 200 inhabitants, perhaps about 25 children.

Ulster Park (p.o.,) formerly called Amesville, contains a Reformed church, a schoolhouse, a store, a hotel, a blacksmith and wagon shop and about 60 inhabitants." You will notice they also had a school.

Then Pelham Farm, the magnificent country seat of Robert L. Pell, Esq., in this town, on the Hudson River is described in detail. "It contains some 1,200 acres of the choicest land in the state, overlying gravel 12 feet deep. Every lot is watered by living springs, with over 100 miles of stone underdrains built in the most substantial manner. There are ten artificial lakes, 14 feet deep and connected by 15 light and beautiful fancy bridges, constructed on iron rods. In these lakes are 55 varieties of fish, among them, imported from Europe, the Tench, known as physician of fishes, and the Barbel."

The coverage of the Robert L. Pell estate reads like a fairy tale. Mr. Pell was the first man in the United States who raised fish from impregnated eggs, and received a magnificent piece of plate from the State Agricultural Society for his experiment and essay on Pisciculture. He had taken premiums for every agricultural product, including cotton and tobacco, amounting to 70, and for the best agricultural farm in the United States.

It further goes on to describe his apple orchard of 20 thousand New Town Pippin apple trees, 40 years old, which fruit is shipped to Europe and often sells for $30 per barrel. Eight dollars in New York has been the price for many years, and $8 per box containing 100 apples, the first quality are boxed, the second quality barreled, and the third quality made into cider, which when bottled sells for $4 per dozen, a barrel making 11 dozen bottles. Three hundred thousand bushels of apples have been converted into cider in a single season."

Mr. Pell had a vineyard of Isabella grapes, containing 50 acres, from 6 to 16 years old, and as many as 100 bushel-and-a-half baskets have been sent to New York in a singe day, from Mr. Pell's wharf, where four large steamers land daily for his freight alone. On this wharf is a large stone building, covered with slate and ventilated at the top, where the apples are sweated for Europe, after which process they will keep nine months after crossing the Atlantic.

This was back in 1871-2, around the time that John Burroughs came there and also was able to send his produce by boat, which is described in his granddaughter's book, "John Burroughs, Naturalist" which can be had at our Kingston City Library.

Health Survival Kits Distributed

ALBANY—The State Health Department has distributed approximately 600 Medical Self-Help Training Program kits to local Civil Defense jurisdictions in New York State, Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, State Health Commissioner, announced today.

The program is part of a nationwide mass educational effort sponsored by the American Medical Association and the United States Public Health Service. Plans to implement the program in New York State were developed recently at a meeting of Gen. F. W. Farrell, director of New York Civil Defense Commission; Dr. James H. Lade, director of the State Health Department's Bureau of Medical Defense, and Dr. Edward A. Burkhardt, chairman of the committee on disaster medicine of the Medical Society.

"The objective of this program is to teach American families how to survive in a national disaster —to meet their health needs when the services of physicians are not available," Dr. Hilleboe said.

The American National Red Cross has volunteered the use of their instructors where needed. It is expected that only a limited number of persons will be trained under the program this year. It is hoped, however, that by 1964 fifty million Americans will have received this training—at least one member of each family.

Subjects covered in the course include: Radioactive fallout and shelter; hygiene, sanitation and vermin control; water and food; shock; bleeding and bandaging; artificial respiration; fractures and splinting; transportation of the injured; infant and child care, and emergency childbirth. Each person completing the course will be given the manual, Family Guide —Emergency Health Care, for reference.

Further information about the program can be obtained from county and city Civil Defense offices.

Announce Promotion Appointments at IBM

DONALD P. SIMEK

ROBERT D. BUCK

ROBERT B. ELTING

The appointment of three Ulster County men to advanced positions in IBM Federal Systems Division, including two transfers to the Command Control Systems Center at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., was announced this week.

Donald P. Simek of Kingston was named assistant for operations planning of the Federal Systems Division operation staff at Kingston, it was announced by Edward C. Byman, command and control systems manager, here.

Assigned to Florida

Robert D. Buck of Saugerties was appointed as an advisory engineer in advanced systems analysis, and Robert B. Elting of New Paltz was named project manager of recruiting and employment, personnel services at the control center at Fort Lauderdale, it was announced by Ralph G. Mork, manager.

Simek joined IBM in October, 1956 as a technical engineer in field engineering installation and planning at Kingston and was named an associate engineer in field engineering construction coordination in early 1957. In August, 1959 he was named a staff engineer in field engineering installation assistance and four months later a department manager in that area. In August, 1960 he was named assistant for program planning in field engineering planning and control, a post he has held until his present appointment.

Simek received a Bachelor of Science Degree in building construction from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. He is a director of the Kingston Boys Club, a director of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and served as associate director of the 1961 Miss New York State Pageant.

He, his wife Barbara and children David, 8, Diane and William, 6, and Nancy, 1, reside on 64 Glen Street, Kingston.

Started in Poughkeepsie

Buck joined IBM in June, 1952, as a test engineer in the product testing laboratory at Poughkeepsie. After a military leave of absence he rejoined IBM in late 1954 in early SAGE system planning and study. In mid-1956 he was assigned to the Columbia University Electronic Research Laboratory, New York City, on a military radar study project. He was named a staff engineer two years later in advanced systems research at Kingston, a post he has held until his present appointment.

Buck received a Bachelor of Science Degree in physics from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. He is a senior member of the institute of Radio Engineers.

Buck, his wife Sara and children, Laura 6, Carol 4, and Nathan 1, reside on 11 Barclay Lane, Saugerties.

A graduate of New Paltz Central School, Elting is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Elting of Academy Place, New Paltz.

He joined IBM as a senior salesman in time equipment sales in New Haven, Conn., in August, 1950. Records of Local Holstein Listed

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America has announced the completion of outstanding official production records by registered Holstein cows in this area.

Saunderskill Imperial Piebe 4690846, a six-year-old, produced 19,860 pounds milk and 688 pounds butterfat in 298 days. Laurel Jaway Rag Apple Posch F 4172000, a six-year-old, had 17,810 pounds of milk and 648 pounds butterfat in 283 days. Both are owned by Franklin S. Kelder, Jaway Farms, Accord.

Armagh Sensation Prilly 3205-596, a 10-year-old owned by Joseph McAnlis, New Paltz, produced 15,680 pounds milk and 576 pounds butterfat in 305 days.

Fernbrook Finis Fawn Jane 3724570, a seven-year-old, produced 21,885 pounds milk and 743 pounds butterfat in 365 days. Fernbrook Finis Pohanna 4176-154, a four-year-old, had 18,454 pounds milk and 603 pounds butterfat in 365 days. Both are owned by Carl H. Swenson Jr., Wappingers Falls.

In contrast, the annual production of the average U. S. dairy cow is generally estimated at approximately 7,000 pounds of milk containing 265 pounds of butterfat.

Cornell University supervised the weighing and testing of the new Holstein records as part of the breed's official herd testing programs.

Visited Pakistan

William K. Wakeley Jr., electronics technician seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Wakeley of Grove Street, Tillson, visited Karachi, Pakistan, recently, while serving aboard a destroyer.

The ship took part in a review of the Pakistan Navy by the King of Thailand, and entertained 24 children from the Saint Patrick and Saint Lawrence Orphanages.

Warm Tones

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP)—John Moore, singing a role in the Tri-Cities Opera Workshop production of La Boheme, sat on the edge of a table on which two candles were burning. Suddenly, while Moore was singing lustily, three other performers on the stage noticed the back of his clothing was on fire. They carefully rubbed it out and Moore never missed a note.

Crackerjack Croaker Scores in Frog Leap

DEL MAR, Calif. (AP)—Herbie, a crackerjack croaker recruited from a creek near Olivenhain, got off the top hop Sunday at the ninth annual Southern California jumping frog championship.

Herbie, a California leopard-spotted hopper, won the broad jump with a cumulative three-leap distance of 13 feet, 3 inches.

He also won best frog honors and so will be entered automatically in the international jumping frog jubilee May 20 at Angels Camp in Calaveras County. That was the setting of the famous Mark Twain story, "The Celebrated Jumping Frog of Calaveras County."

Herbie was entered by John F. Davis, 28, an apprentice plumber from Olivenhain, 30 miles north of San Diego. The championship was sponsored by the San Diego Junior Chamber of Commerce as a cancer fund benefit.

Missing from the field was Astro, winner of the jump here last year. What happened was a cat got a frog in its throat. It was Astro.

"The dangers of mail order prescriptions include delays encountered in obtaining the medication, the absence of the physician-pharmacist relationship, the difficulties of checking the prescription files for strength and dosage, and the possibilities that prescriptions will be filled by non-professional personnel. WHEN THEY SAY "NEW SIZE"

They really mean Rambler size!

There's a lot of chest-thumping by some 1962 cars which claim to be "new size." Fact is, six years ago, we brought out a new size car—a big-room, high-performance Rambler. Newest version is today's Rambler Classic—which Chevy II and Fairlane have tried to copy. In outside dimensions they come fairly close. In room and performance, they fall short. Rambler Classic is still the only car with the BEST OF BOTH: big-car room and performance; compact-car price, economy, handling ease.

COMPARE ROOM AND PERFORMANCE*	RAMBLER Classic 6	CHEVY II	FAIRLANE
MOST HEADROOM	YES	NO	NO
MOST SHOULDER ROOM	YES	NO	NO
MOST HIP ROOM	YES	NO	NO
MOST HORSEPOWER	YES	NO	NO
MOST TORQUE (Passing Power)	YES	NO	NO

*Standard 6-cylinder 4-door sedans

Rambler Classic Six "400" 4-Door Sedan

They can copy the size, but they can't match Rambler's customer benefits!

Rambler's "new size" idea has made it one of America's top best sellers. In the past six months alone, Rambler has set a sales record above any corresponding period.

The soaring sales are due, in good measure, to the greater room and power Rambler has —compared to imitators. Rambler is the only car within hundreds of dollars of its low price that gives six big 6-footers full headroom, hip room and shoulder room.

Biggest reason for Rambler's best-selling success is unmatched excellence of design, quality, and its host of advanced features.

Just compare and see.

Rambler's Double-Safety Brake System provides separate braking front and rear (only Cadillac, no other U.S. car, has a similar system). It's standard on 1962 Ramblers—as are self-adjusting brakes.

Rustproofing. Rambler spills more than others use—literally—in the exclusive Deep-Dip bath where each body is immersed up to the roof in rustproofing primer paint.

Ceramic-Armored muffler and tailpipe. We'll pay the cost if either rusts out, for original owner—collision damage excepted. Just go to a Rambler dealer for free replacement. No time limit.

Interiors are the most comfortable of any car, with comfort options like Airliner Reclining Seats, Reclining Bucket Seats, Adjustable Headrests, Lounge-Tilt Seat.

Full-size wheels and tires are standard on Rambler—instead of small 13" foreign-car size on Rambler's imitators.

These are just a few examples of the great lengths Rambler goes to—to bring you a better built, longer lasting, safer, more useful automobile—at a lower price.

Get the complete facts in the 1962 Car X-Ray Books—free at your Rambler dealer's!

Congress Boxscore Meagre

JFK's Program Not Setting Any Record

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's like the sun in your eyes.

The flashy things—nuclear test ban talks, disarmament talks, Berlin talks—blot out much of the meat-and-potato business here at home.

Impressively Small

He has dropped a mob of them in Congress' basket. After three months of 1962, it's a fair time to ask how he is doing with them. It's simply answered: He is setting no records and, at the rate he's going, he won't be.

The list of his proposals passed by Congress is impressively small. Only two items which could remotely be called major programs have won approval of both houses and been signed into law.

In one Congress raised the national debt limit to $300 billion, highest since the war, although it was only a $2 billion incease. The other permits training of up to a million unemployed workers for new skills.

The rest of his programs are either stuck in committees or have been passed by only one house of Congress and will die of exhaustion from waiting unless the other House also approves.

Two of his major appeals got a dismal reception. The House killed his plan for a new department of urban affairs and housing. His plan of federal aid for public schools looks as dead as it did last year.

It is understood he will make an all-out pitch to get approval for his program of medical care for the aged, but his efforts on this one so far have not been rocking the walls of the Capitol.

On everything else he is using the same tactics as last year. Using these tactics, strictly professional and unsensational, the President works directly on the members of Congress, or through his aides, while avoiding ill-will, harsh words, or appeals to the public to put pressure on Congress.

Popularity Still High

The President's personal popularity, as reflected in the public opinion polls, is astonishingly high. So, even if much of his over-all program gets massacred, he'll probably remain highly liked.

Last week, after a lot of bickering among Republicans, Kennedy got the Senate to approve his request for authority to buy up to $100 million in U.N. bonds.

Now the House has to act and that may mean another rocky time of it. The House, but not yet the Senate, approved a boost in postal rates.

The Senate also approved a proposed constitutional amendment to wipe out the poll tax as a requirement for voting. Five Southern states still have it.

This won't get off the ground unless the House also approves. In the Senate the Southern Democrats filibustered a few days and then let the vote be taken. The filibuster was more a gesture for the benefit of the folks back home than a practical effort to stop passage.

Others Bogged Down

The House, but not yet the Senate, passed a tax-revision measure. House and Senate both approved federal aid for college classroom construction, but they did it differently. This can't become law unless they agree on a compromise.

All the other major programs are still bogged down in committees. They include emergency power for the President to cut taxes and launch antirecession public works programs; broadening unemployment insurance; a new farm program; new civil rights legislation; continuation of foreign aid program; drastic revision of the foreign trade program.

Greene Woman Is Held for Jury in Husband'sSlaying

Mrs. Charlotte Miller, 40-year old Prattsville woman, waived examination Monday before Justice of the Peace George Carl of Leeds and was held for grand jury action on a first degree murder charge. She stands accused of shooting her husband, William Miller, 48, Sunday after they had returned to their home following inspection of a wash-out area nearby.

Her husband, a truck-driver, was wounded by a .22 caliber rifle shot in the stomach. He died 45 minutes later in the office of Dr. Edwin Mulbury of Windham.

Alex Wiltse, Greene County district attorney said Mrs. Miller told him her husband had beaten her several times and at the arraignment told authorties "I've been wishing he was dead for the past six months."

The couple formerly lived at Union City, N. J., and Miller was employed as a long-haul truck driver. The couple had been married 15 years and five of their ten children were Mr. Miller's by a previous marriage. Six of the children were at home when the shooting took place.

State Police and Greene County Sheriff Fred Knight investigated.

Held for Possession Of Loaded Firearm

A 22-year-old member of the U.S. Air Force attending IBM School here was arrested Monday night at the Sky Top Restaurant Route 28, for unlawful possession of a loaded firearm, Kingston state police reported.

Gary Hilbert Cluff of Seattle, Wash., residing locally at Wittenberg Road, Glenford, waived examination when he appeared before Town of Ulster Justice of the Peace Robert S. Stedge, and was committed to Ulster County Jail pending grand jury action.

Trooper Richard Ryan reported Cluff had on his person a .22 colt single-shot pistol at the time of his arrest.

Plea for Support Of Ambulance OnEsopusAgenda

A plea for financial support to continue emergency ambulance service in the township will be heard at the regular meeting of Esopus Town Board Wednesday 8 p. m. at the Town Hall, Port Ewen.

Francis Fatum, proprietor of Fatum's Ambulance Service, recently contacted the Towns of Esopus, Ulster, Hurley, Woodstock, Olive and Kingston and requested financial assistance in order to maintain his service to the townships. He originally stated that ambulance service would cease on March 31 unless an agreement was reached betweeen the townships and his organization.

After a meeting, however, between Fatum and the supervisors of the six towns at Ulster County Court House on March 26, Fatum agreed to continue his service until April 15 so that the matter could be discussed at regular town board meetings in the townships involved.

Any resident of the Town of Esopus interested in the problem is urged by Supervisor Roger W. Mabie to attend Wednesday night's board meeting.

Gate Crasher Is

ceremony on the steps of City Hall.

After Monday night's performance at the suburban Santa Monica Civic Auditorium, Berman told newsmen: "This time I expected to get arrested."

How did he get past the hordes of guards, with no VIP badge, no press button, no ticket?

"I just pushed my way through the crowd and walked in."

Where does a man go who does not have a ticket? To the men's room, naturally.

When the awards began, Berman said, he walked into the auditorium and took a seat—third row orchestra.

Derby Circle Next Goal

How does a $100 a week taxi driver finance his hobby?

"I just spend $35 a week on myself and save the rest for my gate crashing expenses," Berman said.

He didn't mention that he's getting a little more in expense money this time. A Hollywood correspondent for a London newspaper, disclosed Berman was offered $280 if he got onstage and held an Oscar in his hand.

What's Berman's next big gate crashing effort?

"The winner's circle at the Kentucky Derby," said Berman.

Priest Observes 102nd, Given Year To Live in 1902

CHICAGO (AP) — The Rev. Thomas J. McCormick, who was told he had only a year to live when he became a missionary to the Indians in South Dakota 60 years ago, observed his 102nd birthday Monday.

Father McCormick, believed to be the nation's oldest Roman Catholic priest, lives in retirement at the Viatorian Novitiate in suburban Arlington Heights.

He joined the clerics of St. Viator in 1886 while living in La Salle, Ill., and was ordained in 1894.

Off Critical List

BLUEFIELD, W. Va. (AP) — Heavyweight fighter Tunney Hunsaker was taken off the critical list today.

Dr. E. L. Gage said Hunsaker remains in serious condition, but he has shown improvement Monday night.

"He is not critical," Dr. Gage said.

Hunsaker has been taken out of an oxygen tent.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Tobaccos rebounded in an irregularly higher stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .10 at 253.40 with industrials off .10, rails up .20 and utilities up .10.

Except for tobaccos, which made a strong recovery, changes of most key stocks were small, leaving the plus signs in the majority.

The tobacco stocks met substantial buying support, several rising well over a point.

Steels were fairly steady. A slightly better tone was apparent among rails, oils, rubbers, drugs and mail order-retails. Chemicals and electrical equipments were mostly lower.

Goulart Not Serious

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Shortness of breath, probably caused by Mexico City's 7,800-foot altitude, forced visiting President Joao Goulart of Brazil to cancel most of his schedule today. An attending physician said his condition was not serious.

Goulart arrived Monday for a two-day visit on his way home from a state visit to the United States. He became ill during a special performance of the national ballet and returned to his hotel.

Saugerties Board Acts on Requests, To Buy Loader

Saugerties Town Board at a rescheduled meeting Monday night acted on several requests including authorization to purchase a new loader for the highway department; for installation of a traffic signal at Mt. Marion Four Corners, and for completion of drainage work at Timberlake Estates housing development.

The board approved the purchase of a new loader for the town highway department on a request by Superintendent William R. Brown. The old loader, over 10 years old will be kept as a spare due to the small amount expected on a trade-in, according to Supervisor Peter M. Williams. As soon as specifications are prepared the town will advertise for bids on the loader.

Six residents of Timberlake Estates attending the meeting and requested information regarding the completion of drainage work which was started by A. E. Davis, contractor of West Hurley, last fall. Supervisor Williams said he would check with Brinnier and Larios, consulting engineers of Kingston regarding the project.

Davis was the low bidder for the work which will be completed with funds received from a $2,800 performance bond posted by housing developer, Allen Green.

Paul A. Seyfferth, representing Mt. Marion Civic Association, asked for installation of a traffic signal at Mt. Marion Four Corners to slow down traffic at this intersection.

Supervisor Williams authorized Town Clerk Miss Marion Newkirk to request the State Traffic Commission to place a counter at the intersection to determine the volume of traffic at that point.

The board granted the issuance of exemption papers to Percy Dederick, who served for the required time as a member of Malden-West Camp Fire Company.

Fire Is Thought Set on Purpose, Police Checking

Investigation of a fire of suspicious origin early this morning in a rear hallway of a downtown building housing several families continued today by local police.

Firemen were notified at 12:59 a. m. to the house at 150 Broadway, but said the blaze which started in an oil-soaked rag, was out on their arrival. A section of floor and wall of the first-floor hallway were charred. Police said the fire was extinguished by Emil Shultis, a resident of the building.

Detectives Gurnsey Burger and William Slover made a first investigation. The building houses a total of 36 people, police said, and it is believed the fire had been deliberately set.

Other Court Cases

Weishaupt Named To Represent Van Steenburgh

Ronald William Van Steenburgh, 26, of 1 Lawrenceville Street, Town of Ulster, indicted by the grand jury on a first degree assault charge, appeared in County court Monday afternoon for assignment of counsel.

Van Steenburgh, indicted in two counts for the stabbing of his mother, Mrs. Hazel Van Steenburgh, 65, on March 29, said he had no funds to engage counsel and asked that counsel be assigned. County Judge Raymond J. Mino assigned Matthew Weishaupt Jr., and set the matter down for April 11 at 2 p. m.

Was Mental Patient

Van Steenburgh, who has been released from a mental institution shortly before the stabbing, was remanded to jail.

It is charged he stabbed his mother with a paring knife and then turned his attention on the pet dog, fatally stabbing it with the same knife with which he had inflicted the five stab wounds on his mother.

Indicted Friday

Mrs. Van Steenburgh ran to a neighbor's for aid and it is reported her son followed outside and threatened to "kill" her. When deputy sheriffs arrived they found Van Steenburgh in the yard, armed with two kitchen knives. It was reported Van Steenburgh had been drinking prior to the act.

The grand jury reported the assault indictment on Friday in a partial report to the court.

A second indictment was reported, a grand larceny, second degree, charge against John Joseph Manfro, alleging he took a car of the Arace Appliance firm on May 28, 1961. Seymour Werbalowsky appeared for Manfro Monday on arraignment and a plea of innocent was entered. Adjourned to April 11 at 2 p. m. Bail continued.

Mulligan Dismissed

A grand larceny, first degree, charge against Hugh Mulligan, Saugerties, was dismissed on motion of District Attorney David W. Corwin. The case was tried at the February term of court and resulted in a "hung" jury. Corwin said that apparently there was insufficient evidence to convict and he moved for dismissal. Judge Mino granted the application. G. Thomas Rea appeared for Mulligan at the trial when the jury was unable to agree. Bail was exonerated. The charge grew out of the alleged taking of material from a former employer. At the trial the defendant denied taking any material, other than what he had purchased.

Carlton Whipple, Granite, was arraigned on a charge of third degree burglary and petit larceny, alleged to have been committed on December 19, at Bowl-O-Matic, Ellenville. Alex Nirenberg appeared for defendant and the case was adjourned to April 19 at 2 p. m.

Credited With 79 Days

Ernest Adelbert Dunham Jr., of Lexington, entered a plea of guilty to the charge of placing a child in such a situation as likely to impair morals. George Beck, assigned counsel, said Dunham was married, the father of two children and was needed at home to support the family. He said the act was the result of drinking and he asked leniency. Dunham was sentenced to a year in jail and given credit for the 79 days he has spent in jail.

Several other cases were adjourned to later dates.

Plane Is Safe At Stewart Base, Was Feared Down

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — A light plane feared down in Northern New York actually was safe at Stewart Air Force Base here, officials said today.

The plane was flown by 1st Lt. Cornelius Cosentino of Lincoln, Neb., Air Force Base. It had taken off Monday morning from Plattsburgh Air Force Base with fuel for a three-hour flight.

Cosentino said he decided to depart from his original flight plan and land here because of bad weather ahead. He said he notified the Federal Aviation Agency of his change in plans.

He resumed his flight today.

The aircraft was a T-34 training plane that had been owned by the SAC Aero Club of Plattsburgh. The club, made up of Air Force men, had disbanded, and Cosentino was flying the plane to Lincoln for use by a club there.

Cosentino had planned to check in at Glens Falls, Albany, and Teterboro, N.J., and was to land at Pottstown, Pa., to refuel.

He had taken leave from Lincoln for the trip.

The plane, a Beechcraft with a single conventional engine, was capable of flying at a speed of about 105 miles an hour.

While my husband is a smart man, he's no financial planner, and so the job's been left to me over the years. Our only income after retirement will be from Social Security, dividends and board from a son living at home.

"Our stock portfolio is worth about $16,000 in today's market and includes 65 shares of American Telephone, and smaller amounts of Campbell Soup, Eastman, Gillette, Hershey, IBM, and Zenith. Dividends from the list average $25 a month. If my husband were to retire today, I figure our income would be about $30 or $40 short of expenses each month. Is there any way we could pare down the difference?" —A. B.

A) Yes, I think you can go a long way towards narrowing the gap.

Your list as it now stands is a splendid one, particularly for an investor who is seeking capital appreciation. However, since this is primarily a growth list, the over-all dividend yield is rather small — only about 2 per cent.

With the exception of Eastman, I would ordinarily be quite reluctant to suggest the sale of any of these issues. Nevertheless, I feel that your particular circumstances do warrant just such a consideration.

By holding Telephone and switching the rest of your holdings into equal amounts of sound, income-producing issues, such as Norfolk & Western, Ludlow, Cities Service, and General Motors, you will be able to increase your dividend income considerably — to an average of almost $50 a month. (Since you're retired, any capital-gains tax liability incurred in the changes would be of minor significance.)

This $50 figure still falls a little short of what you probably were hoping for, but it's pretty close. If the well-being of your husband is at stake, I'm sure a person of your resourcefulness will be able to make up the difference without much difficulty.

Q) "What's your estimate of 1962 earnings for Northern Illinois Gas?" — D. T.

A) I'm looking for results in the area of $2.50 a share.

Criticism of Ike On B70s Denied By Defense Boss

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says he doesn't believe he has been critical of the Eisenhower administration's management of the B70 bomber program.

He made that comment Monday before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. He was asked about a statement by Dr. Harold Brown, research director for the Defense Department, that McNamara felt the B70 program under the previous administration was one of the worst managed programs he ever saw.

Brown's testimony before a House Appropriations subcommittee last month was made public over the weekend. He had testified that before McNamara took charge, there was considerable waste in the B70—now designated as the RS70—program.

McNamara said he had not read news accounts of Brown's testimony but declared: "I don't believe I have been critical of the Eisenhower administration on the B70."

In recent years—in both the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations—there has been a debate between Congress and the Air Force on one side and the Pentagon on the other whether to rush development of the supersonic bomber. Congress and the Air Force have contended the program should be thrown into high gear.

Clergymen Cleared

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—A judge has dismissed breach of the peace charges against 15 Episcopal clergymen convicted and sentenced to $200 fines and four months in jail for attempting to desegregate bus terminal facilities.

Among the ministers was the Rev. Robert L. Pierson, son-in-law of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and 11 other white men.

Other States Move

Get Tougher at Home

Apparently resigned to the fact that New York bars are going to open to teen-agers for some time to come, the New Jersey Legislature on Wednesday passed three measures aimed at control on the home front.

One would revoke the license of any driver under 21 who gets into an accident after drinking. Another permits magistrates to revoke licenses of young drivers caught with liquor in a car.

A third measure raises the maximum fine for lying about age to buy liquor from $50 to $200.

Put Up Roadblocks

New Jersey police lately have been putting roadblocks on main arteries into New York, and report that fewer teen-agers are driving over the line to taverns in recent weeks.

In Connecticut, state police have been making spot checks along the state line on week-ends since January, and have issued a great number of warnings to drinking-and-driving teen-agers.

can you seriously consider earning $90,000 per year?
A new, direct and especially profitable approach has been developed jointly by two nationally known companies in their drive to enlarge their participation in an expanding billion-dollar market. Local-level manufacturing is the answer.
If you have been seriously considering $90,000 annually, you should thoroughly investigate this opportunity. Requisites are $17,000 capital investment coupled with a very strong credit rating. Due to an exceptionally strong company training program, previous experience in this field is not essential. This is a major business opportunity, limited to those men with intelligence, foresight, capital requirements and impeccable credit standing.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Hollywood's annual big moment—its Motion Picture Academy Awards show—meandered along for more than two hours Monday night and into this morning on ABC before the television audience finally learned the names of its best picture, best actor, best actress and best supporting players.

Hope Bright in Spot

There were many other awards of Oscar statuettes, too, of mild interest to the television audience. But those were the five that kept the yawning public up through endless "I want to express my gratitude to—" speeches. But if you like to look at stars, there were a lot of them to see, and Bob Hope managed to keep things moving as a bright master of ceremonies to the bitter end.

"West Side Story" picked up so many awards that it almost became monotonous. I wouldn't miss watching this annual show, but each year I wonder why Hollywood can't manage to honor itself with a shorter, more interesting program—and also why a great industry like motion pictures must have its big event of the year sponsored, this year by a manufacturer of home permanent waves and a tooth paste.

Sparkling Half Hour

Edie Adams' half-hour musical special that preceded it on ABC was a bright and sparkling little program. This viewer even wished it could go on longer, a reaction rare in these days of hour-long specials which often seem padded to fill the time.

Miss Adams sang well and in a wide range of moods. Dick Shawn was amusing in a comedy bit and Andre Previn played the piano brilliantly. It was very nice, and one hopes she'll do this sort of thing often.

Fascinating Special

The special film of John H. Glenn Jr.'s flight, first on CBS and then—in color—on NBC, was most interesting, particularly the pictures of the astronaut taken during the historic flight in space and during the re-entry of the capsule into the earth's atmosphere.

The viewer felt Glenn's jubilation and relief when he reported, three times, that the parachute was working well. It was a fascinating hour, and even more interesting for the lucky ones who could see it in color. Color photographs of the earth far below the space ship were awe-inspiring.

Deaths

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Norman R. Althauser, 65, former vice president and controller of the Aluminum Company of America, died Monday after a short illness. Althauser, who was born in Freeport, Pa., became ill three weeks ago in Singapore during a cruise to the Far East with his wife.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maurice O. Ryan, 62, Washington representative for the American Hotel Association, died Sunday of a heart attack on the golf course of Burning Tree Country Club. Ryan, who was born in Michigan, had worked for newspapers in Minneapolis and in North Dakota and spent 25 years in Chamber of Commerce and trade association work.

To Head State Engineers Fall Conference Here

IRWIN GELLEN

New York State Society of Professional Engineers will hold its autumn meeting September 20, 21, 22 at Governor Clinton Hotel, here. The meeting will be sponsored by Ulster County Chapter, it was announced today by Roland H. Green, president, registered professional engineers, who is superintendent of Ulster County Highways.

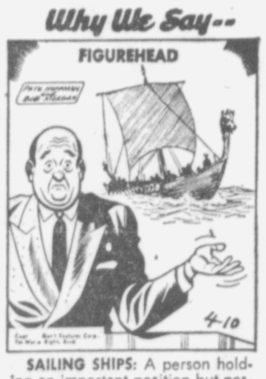

Green named Chapter Vice President Irwin Gellen, chairman for the fall conference.

Gellen said, "We are planning to have many guest speakers, some will be from engineering fields, others will be prominent citizens in other fields."

A banquet is planned for one of the evenings so it is anticipated that many members wives will attend. Special entertainment is being planned for the ladies.

Gellen is a graduate of New York City Schools and received a degree in electrical engineering from City College. He resides at Schuler Lane, Lake Katrine, with his wife, Rhoda, and two children, Pamela, 10 and Annie, 6. Gellen is employed at the Command Control Center of International Business Machines Corp., here.

Light Primary Is Expected Today In Illinois State

CHICAGO (AP) — Illinois holds off-year primary elections today with indications of a light voter turnout.

Generally favorable weather prevailed but there were few races to excite the voter in the nation's first state primary this year.

Estimates of the vote count varied widely, but most fell between 1,300,000 and 1,600,000—25 to 30 per cent of the 5,140,000 eligible registrants.

Polls are open from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. (CST).

Voters at the 10344 precinct polling places could choose ballots in either the Republican or the Democratic primary. Republicans had the greatest number of candidates, but many nominations in both parties already were decided by lack of competition. Some nominations—barring write-ins—were tantamount to election.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Pekin, the Republican minority leader seeking his third term, was challenged by Harley D. Jones a Chicago lawyer. U.S. Rep. Sidney R. Yates of Chicago, seeking the Democratic nomination to run against Dirksen, had as a rival Lar Daly, Chicago furniture jobber and perennial candidate.

Twenty-one members of Congress sought re-nomination with two to face each other in the 20th District in November: Reps. Paul Findley, Pittsfield Republican, and Peter F. Mack Jr., Carlinville Democrat.

Pilots Told Strike Illegal, They Stay Off Jobs Anyway

OTTAWA (AP) — Striking St. Lawrence River pilots were under orders today to return to work.

Canadian Transport Minister Leon Balcer said Monday that the walkout was illegal and that he had told the striking pilots to return to work.

He met with representatives of the pilots and shipping companies in an effort to settle the strike that began early Friday. He said he had asked the pilots to revise their wage proposals, which he termed as "stiff."

Balcer said he also had asked them to release the Canadian Pacific Liner Empress of Britain, which has been tied up at Montreal since the strike began because it lacked a pilot.

At another meeting late Monday night, the pilots offered concessions but did not agree to return to work.

The pilots walked off their jobs because of what they called a negative attitude on the part of shipowners toward requests for changes in working conditions.

Mid-Week Lenten Services

Redeemer Lutheran

The mid-week Lenten service will be held Wednesday 7:30 p. m. at the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Wurts and Rogers Streets. The theme of the service, the sixth in the current series, will be based on the sixth utterance of Christ from the cross, "It Is Finished." The meditation on this text will be given by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. David C. Gaise, who will conduct the order for vespers.

Music for the service, with Mrs. Lester Decker at the organ will include Andante Serioso by Ketelby; prelude on Aberystwyth by Willan; and Andante Religioso by Haeling. The anthem Incline Thine Ear by Himmel, will be sung by the senior choir under the direction of Leonard Stine.

The fellowship period in the assembly room following the service will feature a discussion on questions concerning creeds and churches.

The senior choir will rehearse after the service.

Bloomington Church

A choral and organ recital are to be offered by the Bloomingdale Reformed Church, Bloomington, at the Wednesday evening Lenten series. The program begins at 8 p. m.

The chancel choir, directed by Mrs. Elsie Ingram, will sing a number of familiar hymns. Congregational hymn singing will be included. The organist, Mrs. Albert J. Gibson, will play several selections on the newly dedicated organ. The Rev. Richard L. Brown, minister of the church, will offer a devotional on the familiar hymn, When I Survey the Wonderous Cross.

Public may attend.

Immanuel Lutheran

The sixth and last of the mid-week Lenten services will be held at Immanuel Lutheran Church, Livingston Street, Wednesday 7:30 p. m. The pastor, the Rev. Carl J. Goette, will speak on the topic, The Victorious Word based on the text, It Is Finished.

Pre-service organ music will be played by J. Charles Brand who will be the organist during the service. The children of grades 5-8 of Immanuel Lutheran School will sing We Sing the Praise of Him Who Died. At the beginning and the close of the service the adult choir will sing O Christ, Thou Lamb of God and The Lord Bless You and Keep You. The public may attend.

Clinton Ave. Methodist

The sixth Lenten service will be held Wednesday, 7:30 p. m., at Clinton Avenue Methodist Church.

The devotional program will be presented by the Woman's Society of Christian Service with Mrs. Clarence Dederick, president, in charge. The following members will participate: Scripture will be read by Miss Rebecca Smith, prayer by Mrs. Howard Shultis. Mrs. D. N. Secore is in charge of ushering.

Soprano soloist will be Mrs. Robert Gaines who will sing a folk song, I Wonder As I Wander. Mrs. Reginald T. Edwards will be the accompanist.

The pastor, the Rev. Reginald T. Edwards will bring a Lenten meditation.

Comforter Reformed

The sixth in a series of mid-week Lenten services will be held in the Church of the Comforter, Wynkoop Place, Wednesday, 7 p. m. Service will be in Preparation for the Sacrament of Holy Communion Maundy Thursday, April 19.

Included in the service will be the last in a series of films produced by J. Arthur Rank on the Life of St. Paul which is entitled, Crown Of Righteousness. The film takes up the story of Paul after he has spent two years as a prisoner in Rome. He is tried before Nero and released. After the burning of Rome, Nero decides to accuse the Christians of the crime. In the persecution which follows, Paul is again made prisoner. In his cell, with Luke as his amanuensis, he dictates portions of his Epistle to Timothy. In the catacombs persecuted Christians are inspired by reading from Paul's Epistle to the Romans, "Who shall separate us from the love Christ?" The film closes with a final scene of Paul as he dictates " I have fought the good fight." The public may attend the service.

Trinity Lutheran

The mid-week Lenten service at Trinity Lutheran Church, Spring and Hone Streets, will be held Wednesday, 7:30 p. m. at which time the Rev. John H. Frenssen, pastor, will preach on the topic Judged by Ignorance. Mrs. C. Beehler Jr., minister of music, will present a program of Lenten music, assisted by the senior choir. Following the service the choir will meet for rehearsal. Because of the Lenten service the Luther League has postponed its meeting to Thursday, 7 p., m. Ronnie Smith will preside at the meeting.

St. James Methodist

The congregation of St. James Methodist Church, Fair and Pearl Streets, will join with the Fair Street Reformed Church for a covered dish supper Wednesday. Supper will be served in the host church at 6:15. Program will follow, concluding at 8:15 p. m. Dessert, rolls and coffee will be furnished by the host church.

W. Camp Lutheran

The mid-week Lenten vesper service of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, West Camp will be held Wednesday 8 p. m. The message by the pastor, the Rev. Alvin F. Messersmith on the series "Were You There?" is entitled Crowned with Thorns.

Fair St. Reformed

Wednesday evening the congregation of the Fair Street Reformed Church will gather in the parish room of the church for the final mid-week Lenten fellowship supper at which time this year's series, Denominations Look at Church Union, will conclude.

Speaking at the gathering this week will be the Rev. S. Wilson Francis from St. Mark's Methodist Church, Troy. The Rev. Mr. Francis' topic will be: A Methodist and the Ecumenical Movement. His address is the fourth in a series in which representatives from the Congregational, Episcopalian, and Lutheran Churches participated.

This week's speaker is a native of Newfoundland, Canada, educated in the Methodist College in St. John's, Newfoundland. He continued his studies in McGill University and United Theological College in Montreal, doing graduate work at both McGill and the University of Vermont. Having taught school for five years, the Rev. Mr. Francis also served pastorates in St. Albans' Vt., St. Johnsbury, Vt., and is present minister in Troy. Before becoming the pastor of St. Mark's, he served as district superintendent of the Burlington District, Troy Conference, from 1954-1960.

Having served as a delegate to the World Methodist Conference in Oslo, Norway, last summer, the Rev. Mr. Francis comes with a wealth of information on the whole topic of church unity.

At the meeting, members of St. Jame's Methodist Church will join the congregation with their pastor, the Rev. C. Pershing Hunter. District Superintendent, the Rev. George Werner will introduce the guest to the group.

A separate program has been planned for children during the address.

Former New York Firm Starts on Carolina Plant

ORANGEBURG, S.C. (AP) — Construction has started on a million-dollar industrial plant near here for a manufacturing firm that is moving from New York State.

Ground was broken Monday for the plant for the Utica Drop Forge and Tool Co., a division of Kelsey-Hayes Co.

Utica Drop Forge had been located at Yorktown, near Utica, N.Y. Kelsey-Hayes said several weeks ago it was moving the plant partly because of the refusal of the International Association of Machinists to accept a pay cut for workers it represented.

The plant here will employ about 585 persons. About 50 of them and machinery valued at $3 million are being transferred from the New York plant, officials said.

Showdown Looms On Redistricting

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania courts will come to grips soon with the problem of deciding whether they can force the legislature to reapportion its districts.

The State Justice Department has indicated that in a few days it will ask the Dauphin County Court to put off three suits challenging the state's presently established legislative districts until the 1963 General Assembly considers the matter.

Part of the Commonwealth's case is expected to be based on the contention that the courts have no authority in legislative reapportionment. That was the crux of a similar Commonwealth argument three years ago. It was upheld, 5-2, by the State Supreme Court.

But two weeks ago the U.S. Supreme Court opened the door to a new challenge of legislative reapportionment. It ruled that federal courts may consider challenges to state legislative apportionment when voters feel they are deprived of equitable representation.

A Justice Department source indicated that the Commonwealth will admit the facts brought in the three suits challenging Pennsylvania's legislative districts.

The facts are that Pennsylvania's 210 House and 50 State Senate districts are divided unequally on a population basis. The House was last redistricted in 1953. The Senate's last major redivision was in 1906 and there was a minor change in 1922.

Four states (Delaware, Massachusetts, New Jersey and Rhode Island) could fit into the area of San Bernardino County, Calif.

Amenia Fire Report

A $229,000 fire loss in the Amenia fire district for the year ending this month included an estimated $200,000 fire loss at the Walter B. Culver Jr., farm off Old Route 22, south of Amenia. Firemen responded to 26 fire calls and 48 ambulance calls in the 12-month period, according to Fire Chief William E. Murphy.

Fire During Meeting

A recent annual meeting of Staatsburg firemen was interrupted by a fire call which summoned the volunteers to the New York Central railroad tracks near the estate of Mrs. Helen Hull. Chief James V. Horan said burning railroad ties were extinguished and firemen returned to their hall to resume the session.

U-A to Discuss Street Lights at Meeting Tonight

The regular monthly meeting of the Ulster-Albany Avenue Business Mens Association will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the Oak Grove Restaurant, Route 9W. All members are urgently requested to be present.

Most important item on the agenda will be a committee report on progress to date with the proposed plan for street lights.

All residents of the town of Ulster interested in the formation of a lighting district are invited to attend and present views they may have on the subject.

To Sentence Woman

A 34-year-old Poughkeepsie woman will be sentenced April 27 by Dutchess County Judge John R. Schwartz. Miss Elsie Woody, of 145 Union Street, Poughkeepsie, pleaded guilty recently to second degree assault. She was accused of stabbing Cleve Duffy of the Union Street address in his room last Jan. 29.

Patterns for Better Living

It's after hours.

The factory is empty. But chances are the boss is still around. And if he were to walk through the factory he would hear his footsteps echo loudly in the quiet shop. So many images would crowd in on him—like the cutting tables with the day's work still on them forming accidental patterns of abstract art. Patterns for better living—because here is the beginning of the intricate production process which provides the clothing American women buy and enjoy.

The boss frequently works late. He's planning next season's line of apparel. That's the way the business goes. You've got to stay ahead. He searches for fresh ideas. He harasses his designers for the new fashions. He selects and buys the cloth. He wrestles with his production men; inspires his salesmen; coddles his customers.

He brings together groups of people with diverse skills. The pattern maker, cutter, operator, presser, finisher, shipping clerk and many more. His shop is alive with the color and texture of people—working under collective bargaining agreements which insure decent wages, decent working conditions, fair employment practices and security on the job.

The 450,000 members of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union salute the garment manufacturer—a man who has come a long way with us from the days of the old sweat-shops. A man who has grown in dignity and stature with us.

Today, the label of the ILGWU you see at the right is a symbol of achievement for both employees and employers. It is the signature of 450,000 men and women who, through their union, have achieved fair standards, the dignity of a voice in their own conditions of employment and a position of respect in their community.

Look for this label the next time you shop for girls' or women's clothing. It is your guarantee that the clothing you buy is made by skilled craftsmen in a shop reflecting the best American standards and traditions.

Drumming Out For Marines Is Ordered Stopped

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The commandant of the Marine Corps has ordered a halt to the drumming out of disgraced Marines, a ceremony revived by a Norfolk commander.

The commandant, Gen. David M. Shoup, said Saturday he had ordered an inspector general's investigation of the matter.

"The local commander neither asked for nor was given authorization for the ceremony," said Shoup.

Col. William C. Capehart revived the practice in August 1960 at the Norfolk Marine Barracks, and since that time at least seven Marines have been drummed out of the corps.

In the grim ceremony, the disgraced Marine is marched before a formation of troops while the "death march" is slowly tapped out on the drums. His bad conduct discharge orders are read aloud. Then an officer of the guard comments: "Escort this man from the confines of this U.S. Navy reservation."

The ex-Marine is marched down the line of troops. As he reaches each unit, the commander orders "About face" and the passing Marine is presented with a row of unfriendly backs.

Capehart said the ceremony was not intended "to humiliate or degrade the individual," but "simply to impress on other Marines who might be headed to a bad conduct discharge the seriousness and ultimate consequences of their actions."

Most Marine commanders handle bad conduct discharges simply by publishing the discharge order and reading it during a company formation, a Marine Corps spokesman said in Washington.

A Marine drummed out of the service officially has already received his bad conduct discharge.

DR. FREDERICK McGILL

Speaker Named For Unitarian Program Sunday

The Unitarian Fellowship of Ulster County, meeting at the Kingston YWCA, 209 Clinton Avenue, will have as guest speaker, Sunday, 10:30 a. m., Dr. Frederick T. McGill.

Dr. McGill, professor of English and director of the division of humanities at Rutgers Newark College of Arts and Sciences, is a native of Massachusetts. He received an AB degree from Harvard University in 1925 and an AM from the same institution three years later. Professor McGill has continued his studies in American literature at Columbia University.

After serving as assistant director of the Boston Herald Reference Library from 1925 to 1927, Dr. McGill joined the Newark College faculty in 1928. He served with predecessor colleges and the State University Newark Unit since that time.

From 1934 to 1936, Professor McGill served as assistant dean of Dana College which merged with the University of Newark in 1936. The latter institution joined with Rutgers 10 years later. Professor McGill presented an 11-week television series on 19th century American authors in 1955. He was named director of the division of humanities which comprises instruction in art, languages, music and philosophy in January, 1958.

A member of the modern language Association, National Council of Teachers of English, Thoreau Society and American Association of University Professors, Professor McGill served from 1942 to 1946 as executive director of the Unitarian Layman's League.

Dr. McGill's talk will be entitled, Emerson and His Trumpet.

On Attack Carrier

Thomas P. Daley, airman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Daley of 69 W. Union Street, Kingston, is serving with Heavy Attack Squadron Five at the Naval Air Station, Sanford, Fla. The squadron recently returned from a six-week deployment aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Forrestal to Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, for intensive refresher training and to participate in the recovery operations for Marine Lt. Col. John Glenn's triple-orbit spaceflight.

Long Suit Can Handle Losers

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

When there is a long suit in dummy, it nearly always pays to try to set it up for eventual discards of your own potential losers.

A hand sent me by Alton Smalley of St. Paul illustrates this point beautifully.

Playing at seven clubs, South won the opening trump lead, led the ace of spades, ruffed a spade in dummy, led a heart to his ace, ruffed his last spade in dummy, discarded one heart on the ace of diamonds, and tried to discard his last heart on the king of diamonds only to have West ruff in and set him.

South complained about his bad luck and it was bad luck, but South should have made the hand in spite of all the bad breaks.

All South had to do would be to trump a small diamond at trick two, lead a club to dummy, trump another small diamond with the seven, lead another club to dummy to pull West's last trump and discard all his losers on the rest of the diamond suit.

Mr. Smalley points out that there would be five discards for him so that he could even discard one of his aces if he wished.

Cancer Society Alerts Teen-agers On Smoking Habit

In the interest of alerting teen-agers to the risks of smoking, the American Cancer Society, Ulster County Unit, conducted the first in a series of programs recently at Kingston High School through the cooperation of M. Clifford Miller, principal, and G. Warren Kias, director physical education.

Guest speaker for the day was Dr. Gerald P. Gorman, physician and surgeon and member of the local board of directors of the ACS. He showed slides and presented vital facts concerning the links between cigarette smoking and lung cancer. Laboratory studies show that the tar in cigarette smoke contains a number of agents which will produce cancer in animals, he said.

Other studies show that the cigarette smoke weakens the natural defenses of the lungs. Once normal lung cells are damaged, cancer cells may develop, grow, crowd out and finally destroy the normal cells, Dr. Gorman pointed out. "Not taking up smoking is now the best way to prevent lung cancer," he stated.

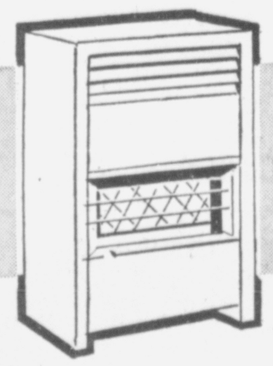

Leaflets on the subject were distributed to the students and a lively question and answer period followed the talk. A similar series will be presented again on Tuesday.

Local Residents To Aid Kingston Hospital Drive

Mayor Henry DuBois and Supervisor Peter Savago, have joined in endorsing area participation in the current Kingston Hospital Building Fund campaign, pointing out that many New Paltz residents are served by that hospital.

Frank Hamilton, town chairman, has called attention to a report from Robert M. Schnitzer, hospital administrator, disclosing that a total of 247 New Paltz residents were admitted to the Kingston Hospital during the year 1960.

The Kingston Hospital is seeking to raise $900,000 in Ulster County. This sum, added to the money expected from the government through the Hill-Burton act, will be used to build a new five-level addition to the present hospital which will provide for 60 additional beds, a pediatric section, larger and modern school of nursing classrooms and new administrative offices.

Mr. Hamilton has appointed his co-chairmen in organizing the drive in the town of New Paltz. They are, Mrs. David Lent, Mrs. Bruce Conklin and Mrs. Harri Janssen. Captains appointed to date include, Mrs. Clifford Van Valkenburgh, Mrs. William McKenna, Mrs. John Wulff, Mrs. Charles Karsten, Mrs. Robert Nicklin, Charles Hamilton, Ashton Hart, S. Parks Glenn, and Mrs. John Hurst.

A meeting was held on Wednesday night at the local high school to distribute materials for the current drive.

Rod, Gun Club Schedules Events

At the recent meeting of the New Paltz Rod and Gun Club, at the VFW Home, Route 208, the committee chairmen were named for the coming year. The amendment changing the fiscal year from January to January to August to August was adopted, with complete dues payable in August.

Another amendment was passed which will raise the initiation fee. The original yearly dues will remain at the present rate. This will take effect at the beginning of the new fiscal year.

Trap Chairman, Donald Beattie, gave a detailed report on all trap shoots for the coming season. A scheduled report of the dates and places will be available at the next meeting.

Heretofore all members of the club were resident of Ulster County. An amendment was passed allowing a member in good standing to propose a nonresident of the county to membership. To insure the sportsman like conduct of the nonresident, the proposing member is held liable for all the actions of the proposed member. Should any unsportsmanlike conduct arise on either part, their membership would be discontinued.

The Rod and Gun Club will hold a meeting Wednesday, which they have extended special invitations to all their landowners. Joseph Shelley of the Conservation Department will be present to show slides that will be of interest to all conservationists and sportsmen. Albert Roberts, game warden, will also be present.

International Night Program Set by P-TA

The sixth annual International Night, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association of the Campus School of the State University here, is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. Friday in the college auditorium.

Countries represented in the dances which will be performed by grades of the Campus School include: India; Sierra Leone; England; Mexico; Ireland; United States; France; Serbia; Israel; Russia; Uruguay; Italy; Scotland; Africa; Greece; West Indies; Germany; Slobenia and Sweden.

One of the featured attractions will be a traditional African tribal dance performed by five college students from Africa.

Wednesday, April 18, the Campus School Board and Dr. George Bond, principal, will attend a meeting of the Mid-Hudson School Study Council's School Board Institute to discuss central purposes of American education.

Boy Scout Notes

At the recent regular meeting of Boy Scout Post 77, the members saw a filmstrip entitled Death on the Highways. The viewing of this film was the first of a series of films, trips, and talks on the general theme for April criminology. The theme will include trips to the Kingston Police Headquarters and possibly a trip to the Kingston State Police Barracks.

The first phase of the rescue work was completed in March and the final phases will soon be started. The first of the trips will be today. The activity for the month of March was a swimming date at Kingston YMCA and the activity for April will be a volleyball game.

Area Activities

Mrs. Edward Frija has arranged a display of United States and foreign stamps at the New Paltz Central School. The exhibit contains many commemorative issues including very timely samples of both United States and Russian stamps commemorating each nation's respective space triumphs.

It has been announced that John G. Vett of 98 Huguenot Street, has been appointed director of admissions at the State University Maritime College, Fort Schulyer, and will start his new position there May 17.

Mr. Vett came to the State University here in 1947 as coordinator of field services and since 1961 has also been serving as director of admissions.

His family plans to remain in New Paltz for an indefinite time.

Mrs. Eugene Denniston, Mrs. Daisy Kortright and Mrs. Katie Simpson have all returned home from their Florida vacations.

Lt. and Mrs. Guy Gardner of the Plains Road and their three children have returned home after a five months stay at Fort Sill, Okla., where Lt. Gardner has been taking a specialized course in the National Guard. Lt. Gardner is an employe of the Central Hudson Corporation.

The regular monthly meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held 8 o'clock tonight at the Ireland Corners Hotel. Both old and new members may attend this meeting.

Among the educational leaders from New Paltz who attended and participated in the 42nd annual conference of the Eastern District Association of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation at Boston recently were Loren Campbell, Henrietta Bartleson, Gloria Bonali, Albert Miller and Douglas Sheppard of the State University College here.

Mrs. Helen Davenport will give a modeling training school for all 4H dress review girls Tuesday at the New Paltz Central School Auditorium from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Ligotino Sr., are the parents of a son, Vincent Anthony, born March 27 at St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

The New Paltz Garden Club will hold a plant sale May 4 and 5 at the home of Mrs. George Bogert, 11 Ridge Road, for the benefit of the Civic Improvement Fund of the New Paltz Garden Club. Anyone wishing to contribute plants of any kind, perennials, annuals, evergreens, shrubs, or house plants may bring them to Mrs. Bogert's on May 3. The Civic Improvement Committee is now working on the grounds of the art building at the Central School and at Moriello Park.

The New Paltz branch of the State of New York National Bank, Plattekill Avenue and Main Street, is installing a drive-in window. The frame house and garage, bought by the bank recently, is being torn down to make place for a drive and parking area. The drive-in window will be on the Plattekill Avenue side with exit on Main Street. The work is being done by Thayer and Van Allen, contractors of Kingston.

George Wardlaw, assistant professor of painting and metal work at the college here, has been asked by Colby College of Waterville, Maine, to submit some of his photographs and color transparencies to be included in the permanent Colby College archives in the area pertaining to Maine. Wardlaw will have some of his work on display in the exhibition of Contemporary Crafts of the United States to be held at Skidmore College during the month of April and in the first annual College and University Arts Faculty Show scheduled for Argus Gallery, Madison, N. J., during the month of May. He currently has a painting on display at the Lending Library Gallery at the Museum of Modern Art and has had two paintings shown recently in exhibitions at Schenectady Museum.

AIR FORCE AWARD—William E. Dippel, son of Mrs. Bruno Frederick, Rosendale, and civilian executive at North American Air Defense Command Hq., Colorado Springs, Colo, shares occasion with his wife as he is presented the Air Force Commendation for meritorious civilian service by Aid Defense Command Chief of Staff Maj. Gen. Benjamin J. Webster, in ceremonies at Ent AFB, Colo. A management analyst on the staff of the Director for Installations, Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics, NORAD, Dippel in a two-year association with the underground NORAD Combat Operations Center is credited with a major role in obtaining a wider access tunnel design representing significant savings in construction costs. The high Air Force civilian award came on the eve of Dippel's departure from the Air Force for a position with the Burroughs Corp., Westchester, Pa. (Air Force photo).

Whooping Cranes Have Fifth Offspring

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Crip and Josephine are two bashful whooping cranes determined to do something about preserving their nearly extinct species.

Their fifth offspring cracked through its egg Sunday at Audubon Zoo to increase the world population of the rare bird to 48.

Crip and Josephine are taking turns incubating a second egg, which zoo director George Douglass believes will hatch by the end of the week.

The two adult whooping cranes, who are so shy Douglass keeps them away from public view, hatched the first of their species ever born in captivity four years ago.

The rusty-colored baby crane is about twice the size of a newly hatched chick.

"It's a very healthy bird," said Douglass, who put the baby under a 24-hour watch. "We are hopeful it won't catch aspergelosis."

He said there is no known cure for the disease—a lung fungus caused by an airborne germ. It doesn't affect domestic fowl and many wild birds, but Audubon lost two cranes from the disease in the past.

Record Number Tour White House Saturday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House reports more tourists passed through its doors Saturday than in any other single day in history.

The record number of 13,229 bettered by about 5,000 the previous high for any single day, the press office said.

This was the first Saturday when tourists were permitted to view the executive mansion from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. The old hours were 10 a.m. to noon.

Delivers All-Car Average of 22.70 Miles Per Gallon

This USAC-certified mileage record was scored by regular stock cars in the 1962 Mobil Economy Run—world's greatest official test of gasoline mileage economy. All of these cars used exclusively either Mobil Premium or Mobil Regular gasoline with the highest Megatane Ratings of any leading gasolines.

Now—Mobil® gasolines have been tested in almost every make of American car. This year 46 cars were entered in the Mobil Economy Run; they traveled 2,497 miles at normal speed from Los Angeles to Detroit—across deserts, over mountains, through crowded city streets . . . delivered convincing records of the mileage-economy potential of Megatane-Rated Mobil!

For Mileage Economy and Top Performance Get Mobil with the Highest Megatane Ratings of Any Leading Gasolines!

DON'T MAKE THE OCTANE MISTAKE!

Octane Rating measures only 2 of your motor's needs

Megatane Rating measures 21 of your motor's needs

The Higher the Megatane Rating the Better Your Motor Will Run!

Octane rating measures only 2 of the qualities your car needs in a gasoline . . . 2 very important qualities—both dealing with anti-knock. The result: many people make the Octane Mistake! They consider only Octane ratings when buying gasoline and overlook many other important qualities made possible by brilliant scientific advances. Qualities that can truly give you a cleaner motor, more mileage and power, longer life and fewer repair bills.

That's why Mobil's engineers measure and express gasoline quality in a rating system called the Megatane System which enables you to judge not just Octane qualities, but the total performance of your gasoline. Megatane includes Octane, of course, but goes far beyond Octane to measure not just 2, but 21, of your motor's needs.

Whether your car is designed to run on Regular or Premium—the best gasoline for your car is Megatane-Rated Mobil!

How do you know before you buy? Mobil's Megatane Rating System tells you. While no gasoline has a perfect Megatane Rating of 21, Mobil Premium at 19† rates highest of any leading Premium. Mobil Regular at 16† rates higher than any leading Regular gasoline. Grade for grade, Mobil gives you more of the important qualities that combine to give outstanding performance and mileage economy.

At first, this Mobil difference may not be apparent to you, but five, ten, twenty thousand miles from now your motor will know the difference . . . in more mileage, in less loss of power, and in longer prime of life.

So, save your motor as well as your pocketbook! Get Mobil with the highest Megatane Ratings of any leading gasolines!

Confesses Rape Attempt of Girl Killed by Auto

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Sheriff's deputies said today a 22-year-old man had admitted trying to rape a 4-year-old girl who they said was killed by his automobile as she ran to her mother after the alleged attack.

Lee O. Saunders, of the Town of Onondaga, was charged with first degree manslaughter and first degree attempted rape. He was held at the Cedar Street Jail here, pending a hearing. No bail was set.

One of 9 Children

The dead girl was Lori Sue Cook, one of nine children of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Cook of Nedrow, a community south of Syracuse near the Onondaga Indian Reservation.

Onondaga County sheriff's deputies said Mrs. Cook stood in the middle of the road near her home trying to wave Saunders down as he drove off Monday. At the last moment she jumped out of the way. But Lori Sue, running to her mother's side, was struck by the car and fell under its wheels.

"What happened?" Saunders was quoted as asking as Mrs. Cook carried the girl toward their home.

Deputies said Mrs. Cook screamed, "You killed my daughter," and kicked Saunders in the shins.

Sent to Well for Water

According to the sheriff's office, this was what happened:

Lori Sue and her sister Roxene, 11, had been sent up a path near their home to get water from a well. Lori Sue skipped ahead of Roxene.

Suddenly, Roxene heard her sister scream. She ran up the path and saw Lori Sue lying on the ground. A man, whom she later identified in a lineup as Saunders, was above the girl, slapping and hitting Lori Sue in the face.

Roxene ran home and told her mother what she had seen. Her mother ran toward the path, and called to Earl George, a passing taxi driver for help.

Retracing his teps, he saw Mrs. Cook in the road waving her arms.

Saunders, after seeing Roxene ran to his automobile parked near the end of the path. He drove off, but turned into a dead-end road. He turned around and was driving away in the other direction when his car struck the girl.

After Free Spenders Who Write Off Costs

Internal Revenue Service, State To Take Closer Look at Expenses

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The expense account way of life is up for a closer look these days.

Many businessmen are protesting loudly, and so are some forms of business that profit from outlays of free spenders who in the past have written off the costs on their tax returns.

But despite the protests, the Internal Revenue Service says it will scrutinize more closely the income tax returns now being filed or fretted over, and will take a primmer view of just what is a reasonable cost of doing business.

Study Laxness Bill

And the Senate is studying a House passed tax measure billed as outlawing some past laxness and putting some limits on how much spending should be deductible.

The tightening of tax forgiveness of expense spending touches many facets of American life—all the way from a night on the town to taking your wife to a convention.

Involved are the folk habits of businessmen in going after sales and the financial health of such groups as the entertainment industry. But also in the picture are discussions of business ethics, and even of what the average American thinks business ethical standards really are, as apart from the pious public utterances about them.

To Delve Deeper

Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin has put businessmen on notice that this year the taxmen will cast a fishy eye on spending that is only remotely connected with business activity.

And he has warned that a wife must be closely connected with such business activity to qualify as a deduction when tabulating the costs of a trip or entertainment of a customer.

Worse for many persons will be the tax collector's insistence that better records of expense spending must be kept — more receipts or canceled checks, and fewer lump sum estimates.

As for the future, the bill now before Congress will blacklist for deduction purposes much spending where entertainment is the obvious factor.

Will Need Proof

You'll have to prove that taking a customer to the ball game or on a hunting trip is actively connected with doing business. And if you own a yacht, swimming pool or fishing camp you'll have to prove that at least 50 per cent of its use is for business purposes if you want to write it off on the expense account. The same goes for club dues if use for business is only casual and rare.

And the bill contemplates putting a limit of $25 on the amount that can be deducted in any one year for business gifts to a single person. The lawmakers think that shows appreciation enough of a customer or a supplier.

The taxmen call all the changes, current or contemplated, reasonable. Many who have enjoyed an almost-free night on the town or a trip to the Caribbean or a fishing and hunting vacation in Canada are aghast at the prospect of another way of life about to fade away.

Local Residents To Aid Kingston Hospital Drive

Mayor Henry DuBois and Supervisor Peter Savago, have joined in endorsing area participation in the current Kingston Hospital Building Fund campaign, pointing out that many New Paltz residents are served by that hospital.

Frank Hamilton, town chairman, has called attention to a report from Robert M. Schnitzer, hospital administrator, disclosing that a total of 247 New Paltz residents were admitted to the Kingston Hospital during the year 1960.

The Kingston Hospital is seeking to raise $900,000 in Ulster County. This sum, added to the money expected from the government through the Hill-Burton act, will be used to build a new five-level addition to the present hospital which will provide for 60 additional beds, a pediatric section, larger and modern school of nursing classrooms and new administrative offices.

Mr. Hamilton has appointed his co-chairmen in organizing the drive in the town of New Paltz. They are, Mrs. David Lent, Mrs. Bruce Conklin and Mrs. Harri Janssen. Captains appointed to date include, Mrs. Clifford Van Valkenburgh, Mrs. William McKenna, Mrs. John Wulff, Mrs. Charles Karsten, Mrs. Robert Nicklin, Charles Hamilton, Ashton Hart, S. Parks Glenn, and Mrs. John Hurst.

A meeting was held on Wednesday night at the local high school to distribute materials for the current drive.

Rod, Gun Club Schedules Events

At the recent meeting of the New Paltz Rod and Gun Club, at the VFW Home, Route 208, the committee chairmen were named for the coming year. The amendment changing the fiscal year from January to January to August to August was adopted, with complete dues payable in August.

Another amendment was passed which will raise the initiation fee. The original yearly dues will remain at the present rate. This will take effect at the beginning of the new fiscal year.

Trap Chairman, Donald Beattie, gave a detailed report on all trap shoots for the coming season. A scheduled report of the dates and places will be available at the next meeting.

Heretofore all members of the club were resident of Ulster County. An amendment was passed allowing a member in good standing to propose a non-resident of the county to membership. To insure the sportsman like conduct of the non-resident, the proposing member is held liable for all the actions of the proposed member. Should any unsportsmanlike conduct arise on either part, their membership would be discontinued.

The Rod and Gun Club will hold a meeting Wednesday, which they have extended special invitations to all their landowners. Joseph Shelley of the Conservation Department will be present to show slides that will be of interest to all conservationists and sportsmen. Albert Roberts, game warden, will also be present.

International Night Program Set by P-TA

The sixth annual International Night, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association of the Campus School of the State University here, is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. Friday in the college auditorium.

Countries represented in the dances which will be performed by grades of the Campus School include: India; Sierra Leone; England; Mexico; Ireland; United States; France; Serbia; Israel; Russia; Uruguay; Italy; Scotland; Africa; Greece; West Indies; Germany; Slobenia and Sweden.

One of the featured attractions will be a traditional African tribal dance performed by five college students from Africa.

Wednesday, April 18, the Campus School Board and Dr. George Bond, principal, will attend a meeting of the Mid-Hudson School Study Council's School Board Institute to discuss central purposes of American education.

Boy Scout Notes

At the recent regular meeting of Boy Scout Post 77, the members saw a filmstrip entitled Death on the Highways. The viewing of this film was the first of a series of films, trips, and talks on the general theme for April criminology. The theme will include trips to the Kingston Police Headquarters and possibly a trip to the Kingston State Police Barracks.

The first phase of the rescue work was completed in March and the final phases will soon be started. The first of the trips will be today. The activity for the month of March was a swimming date at Kingston YMCA and the activity for April will be a volleyball game.

Area Activities

Mrs. Edward Frija has arranged a display of United States and foreign stamps at the New Paltz Central School. The exhibit contains many commemorative issues including very timely samples of both United States and Russian stamps commemorating each nation's respective space triumphs.

It has been announced that John G. Vett of 98 Huguenot Street, has been appointed director of admissions at the State University Maritime College, Fort Schulyer, and will start his new position there May 17.

Mr. Vett came to the State University here in 1947 as coordinator of field services and since 1961 has also been serving as director of admissions.

His family plans to remain in New Paltz for an indefinite time.

Mrs. Eugene Denniston, Mrs. Daisy Kortright and Mrs. Katie Simpson have all returned home from their Florida vacations.

Lt. and Mrs. Guy Gardner of the Plains Road and their three children have returned home after a five months stay at Fort Sill, Okla., where Lt. Gardner has been taking a specialized course in the National Guard. Lt. Gardner is an employe of the Central Hudson Corporation.

The regular monthly meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held 8 o'clock tonight at the Ireland Corners Hotel. Both old and new members may attend this meeting.

Among the educational leaders from New Paltz who attended and participated in the 42nd annual conference of the Eastern District Association of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation at Boston recently were Loren Campbell, Henrietta Bartleson, Gloria Bonali, Albert Miller and Douglas Sheppard of the State University College here.

Mrs. Helen Davenport will give a modeling training school for all 4H dress review girls Tuesday at the New Paltz Central School Auditorium from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Ligotino Sr., are the parents of a son, Vincent Anthony, born March 27 at St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

The New Paltz Garden Club will hold a plant sale May 4 and 5 at the home of Mrs. George Bogert, 11 Ridge Road, for the benefit of the Civic Improvement Fund of the New Paltz Garden Club. Anyone wishing to contribute plants of any kind, perennials, annuals, evergreens, shrubs, or house plants may bring them to Mrs. Bogert's on May 3. The Civic Improvement Committee is now working on the grounds of the art building at the Central School and at Moriello Park.

The New Paltz branch of the State of New York National Bank, Plattekill Avenue and Main Street, is installing a drive-in window. The frame house and garage, bought by the bank recently, is being torn down to make place for a drive and parking area. The drive-in window will be on the Plattekill Avenue side with exit on Main Street. The work is being done by Thayer and Van Allen, contractors of Kingston.

George Wardlaw, assistant professor of painting and metal work at the college here, has been asked by Colby College of Waterville, Maine, to submit some of his photographs and color transparencies to be included in the permanent Colby College archives in the area pertaining to Maine. Wardlaw will have some of his work on display in the exhibition of Contemporary Crafts of the United States to be held at Skidmore College during the month of April and in the first annual College and University Arts Faculty Show scheduled for Argus Gallery, Madison, N. J., during the month of May. He currently has a painting on display at the Lending Library Gallery at the Museum of Modern Art and has had two paintings shown recently in exhibitions at Schenectady Museum.

AIR FORCE AWARD—William E. Dippel, son of Mrs. Bruno Frederick, Rosendale, and civilian executive at North American Air Defense Command Hq., Colorado Springs, Colo, shares occasion with his wife as he is presented the Air Force Commendation for meritorious civilian service by Aid Defense Command Chief of Staff Maj. Gen. Benjamin J. Webster, in ceremonies at Ent AFB, Colo. A management analyst on the staff of the Director for Installations, Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics, NORAD, Dippel in a two-year association with the underground NORAD Combat Operations Center is credited with a major role in obtaining a wider access tunnel design representing significant savings in construction costs. The high Air Force civilian award came on the eve of Dippel's departure from the Air Force for a position with the Burroughs Corp., Westchester, Pa. (Air Force photo).

Whooping Cranes Have Fifth Offspring

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Crip and Josephine are two bashful whooping cranes determined to do something about preserving their nearly extinct species.

Their fifth offspring cracked through its egg Sunday at Audubon Zoo to increase the world population of the rare bird to 48.

Crip and Josephine are taking turns incubating a second egg, which zoo director George Douglass believes will hatch by the end of the week.

The two adult whooping cranes, who are so shy Douglass keeps them away from public view, hatched the first of their species ever born in captivity four years ago.

The rusty-colored baby crane is about twice the size of a newly hatched chick.

"It's a very healthy bird," said Douglass, who put the baby under a 24-hour watch. "We are hopeful it won't catch aspergelosis."

He said there is no known cure for the disease—a lung fungus caused by an airborne germ. It doesn't affect domestic fowl and many wild birds, but Audubon lost two cranes from the disease in the past.

Record Number Tour White House Saturday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House reports more tourists passed through its doors Saturday than in any other single day in history.

The record number of 13,229 bettered by about 5,000 the previous high for any single day, the press office said.

This was the first Saturday when tourists were permitted to view the executive mansion from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. The old hours were 10 a.m. to noon.

Philharmonic Emerges as Top Rate Group; Artists, Orchestra Play to Full House

By DOROTHY A. NAREL
Freeman Society Editor

Last night's performance of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Orchestra, under the direction of Claude Monteux, not only captured the sincere, enthusiastic acceptance of a full house of music lovers, it proved that Ulster County wants, needs, and appreciates an orchestra of its own—one that sparks and improves the cultural life of the area.

Last night's high level performance also demonstrated how fast an infant organization can emerge into full, mature beauty. It can and should boast of its fine local talent. Its future is bright and the Society now stands on the threshold of music-making history. The direction in which it moves depends entirely on superior musicianship and avid public support.

Wherein lies the secret of last night's success? I wouldn't hesitate to say it was in the selection of "popular" symphonic numbers, an outstanding guest artist and a vibrant, demanding conductor. An example of this was when the concert opened with Ludwig van Beethoven's Overture to "Egmont," Op. 84.

Guest Appearance

For Claude Achille DeBussy's Danses Sacree et Profane for Harp and Strings, the orchestra was directed by Sterling Hunkins, assistant conductor. This afforded Mr. Monteux an opportunity to prepare himself for the Mozart work in which he and the guest harpist, Marcel Grandjany, later appeared as soloists. The Mozart number was Concerto in C major for Flute, Harp and Orchestra.

Sheer beauty would best describe the performance of Mr. Grandjany. His acclaimed fame as the world's outstanding harpist is fully justified.

A warm, personable individual, Mr. Grandjany recently founded the American Harp Association. He is awaiting a charter from the State of New York. Asked if there is a growing interest in the harp today, Mr. Grandjany gave me a wide smile and nodded in the affirmative.

"There are at least 7,000 students of the harp. This is the reason for the Association. It is a complete instrument. To me, it represents the entire orchestra."

Lauds Local Group

The guest artist's opinion of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic is very high. "This is a very fine orchestra," he said in a personal interview backstage. Mr. Monteux has a great deal of talent with which to work and I am in favor of it 100 per cent."

About attending concerts, Mr. Grandjany said: "It is important to attend live concerts. The recording industry has done wonders in the field of classical music. Its effort in building up interest in this direction is second to none.

"You cannot, however, substitute a live performance with a recording. When you attend a concert you become emotionally involved. You have a personal contact with the musicians and conductor. You can see the musician at work and you can feel his intense love for the music. There is no substitute for this."

Mr. Grandjany dwelled at length on the training of children in the field of music. "We must give them good music," "However, parents should be very careful about forcing a child to accept music. There is little to be wained in this type of action," Mr. Grandjany said.

Asked why children are not more interested in music, Mr. Grandjany said today's child is confronted with too many activities.

"There are so many extra curricular activities offered a child today, he is sometimes baffled which ones to select."

Mr. Grandjany and Claude Monteux captivated their audience during the Mozart number. The beauty of the flute as a solo instrument was clearly demonstrated by the Philharmonic's director.

Without a doubt, the playing of Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 5 in E minor, Op. 64 carved a spot in the audience's heart for the Philharmonic. Mr. Monteaux had to acknowledge the enthusiastic applause of the audience several times. Hollis Burhans, French horn soloist in this selection, also received an ovation.

Special Engagements

In addition to the regular scheduled concerts given by the Philharmonic, the members of the orchestra also give more than 350 small, in-school concerts throughout five counties. Approximately 21,000 children have attended and most have heard at least three separate performances by different instrumental groups.

The orchestra schedule also includes pops concerts, benefit performances, chamber music concerts, and sponsors an upcoming youthful artist. To date, three winners have appeared with the full orchestra in Poughkeepsie and Kingston.

Next Season

The Monday night series for 1962-63 will include such famous guest artists as William Warfield, baritone, Isaac Stern, violinist, and Ania Dorfman, pianist. Subscriptions to these concerts are now available by writing to Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society, Inc., Box No. 1, Uptown P. O., Kingston.

Future Plans

Now that "Project Philharmonic" has been successfully launched, dare we dream of even greater achievements. Just as an example—a modern concert hall. Or perhaps an amphitheatre with sliding roof, with near perfect acoustics and suitable dressing rooms. We are indeed fortunate to have the use of the Community Theatre but that shouldn't prevent us from striving for an even greater goal. This would make a wonderful project for some far sighted, energetic local group.

I think the success of last night's concert was best summed up by my daughter who accompanied me. A 12-year old who doesn't shun rock and roll, she said, "Boy, that place should have been filled with teenagers." I heartily concur.

Students' Art Work At First Federal

Deweese W. DeWitt, executive vice president and treasurer of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Kingston, today announced the opening of a loan exhibition of work by students of Dutchess County Community College. The exhibition consists of a series of paintngs, watercolors, drawings and etchings done by students at the college as a part of their regular curricula in art.

The exhibition will remain at the Fair Street office of the Association for two weeks beginning today. The public is invited to stop in and see the exhibition.

Chaperoning Son and His Guest

Q: I would like to know if it is proper for a parent to stay in the room with her 19-year-old son when he has a visiting female guest in the house. I always thought that after greeting the guest and exchanging a few words, the parent went into another room and, if she felt it necessary, checked with them several times. A certain mother I know insists that the boy's mother remain with her son and his guest at all times, even if she does not contribute to the conversation. I think she is very wrong about this and that it would not only make the young people very uncomfortable but would be very mistrustful of them. I would like your opinion on this matter.

A: You are right. The young man's mother must remain in the house, but not necessarily in the room with her son and his guest, who will be sufficiently chaperoned by the knowledge that she may come in to see them at any moment.

Children Were Not Invited

Q: A friend of mine is hurt because a relative invited her and her husband to dinner and asked her not to bring the children along. I think it is within the hostess's right to make such a request and I told her so, but she still feels the hostess was wrong. Perhaps a word from you will convince her that the hostess intended no discourtesy.

A: The only discourtesy might have been in what the hostess said. To have explained, "It's to be a dinner party, which means we can't include the children this time" would have been entirely courteous.

Wearing Sport Jacket to Church

Q: Is it proper for a man to wear a sport jacket to Sunday morning church services?

Legislative Issue Affecting Jewish Life Is Panel Topic

Two legislative issues affecting Jewish life will be the topics for discussion by a panel of local attorneys when the Sisterhoods of the three Kingston congregations meet tomorrow evening, April 11.

Hostess group for the annual Tri-Sisterhood meeting will be the Sisterhood of Congregation Agudas Achim. The meeting is set for 8:30 p. m. in the vestry hall of the synagogue, 24 W. Union Street.

Participating will be the Hon. Arthur B. Ewig, the Hon. Aaron E. Klein, Alvin Moscowitz and Seymour Werbalowsky.

They will discuss the Humane Slaughter bill and the Sunday-closing issue, both of which came up in the recent session of the New York State legislature. The slaughter bill deals with the preparation of meat for kosher use, while the Sunday-closing issue affects those Jews who observe the Sabbath by closing their places of business and therefore wish to remain open on Sundays instead.

Mrs. Harry Friedman is general chairman, while Mrs. Manuel B. Lipton and Mrs. Raphael Klein are in charge of the program.

Ewig is a graduate of Fordham University's law school and upon admittance to the bar in 1925 began practice here in Kingston. A former county attorney, corporation counsel and special city judge, he is a past president of the Ulster County Bar Association, B'nai B'rith and its upstate organization, and Temple Emanuel. He is now vice president of the Ulster County Community Chest.

Klein, a former city judge, is a graduate of Brooklyn College and the Brooklyn Law School of St. Lawrence University. He was admitted to the bar in 1936 and has resided here since 1948. A partned in the firm of Schick and Klein, he is now city chairman of the Democratic party, president of the Jewish Community Council and a member of the board of the Jewish Community Center.

Moscowitz, who makes his home in Woodstock, was graduated from Cornell University and its law school. A resident of Ulster County for the past eight years, he is a director of the Woodstck Chamber of Commerce; president of Woodstock's Rotary Club; trustee of the Woodstock Library; and a past director of the Woodstock Association and Tree Trust. He has co-authored 19 books on income, gift and estate tax law.

Werbalowsky attended New York University and Princeton University and received degrees from Pennsylvania State University and Albany Law School. He has practiced here since 1951 and is a partner in the firm of Richter and Werbalowsky. President of the Jewish Community Center, he has served as president of B'nai B'rith and the Hudson Valley Council of that organization. An Ulster County Elections Commissioner, he is on the boards of Gateway Industries and the Cerebral Palsy.

Moderator will be Lionel Friedman, a member of the faculty of the Wiltwyck School For Boys in Esopus. He was formerly program director of the Jewish Community Center and head of its summer day camp.

Mrs. Milton Paige will preside over the session. Refreshments will be served, with Mrs. Harry Friedman in charge. Laszlo and Sandor Slomovits will present vocal selections.

National Search For High School Beauty and Talent

High school girls throughout the nation are capturing the hearts of vast audiences as they portray their youthful charm and talents in Miss High School Pageants.

The first Miss High School Pageant was conducted a short three years ago in Newark, New Jersey by Nancy and Joseph Errico to select a New Jersey high schools beauty queen. It was such a complete success and so well received by family, friends and the entire community that the directors began to interest others throughout the nation to conduct similar events. The first national contest was held at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel on Park Avenue, New York, in August, 1959, and since then pageants have been conducted all over the nation and for two years in a row Texas has produced Miss High School af America.

Because high school girls are talented, the competition was divided and a selection of a Miss High School Beauty Queen and Talent Queen is now made in each state. The High School Girl's Creed and Code of Ethics the Pageant proposes were formulated by director Nancy Errico to promote high ideals of living among our future mothers and also to try to eliminate some of the evils that attack our youth.

The 1962 Miss High School of New York Pageant will be conducted at Freedomland on May 26, 1962, as one of the opening day activities. Bathing suits are not allowed and contestants will parade in evening dresses. Prominent stars of stage, screen, radio and TV will be on hand to judge contestants on natural beauty, talent, speech and diction, poise and personality.

All high school girls that sing, dance, twirl a baton, deliver a monologue or "just look pretty" are encouraged to enter by sending a snapshot or photo which cannot be returned together with a brief biography to Pageant Headquarters at 9 Warren Street, Newark 2, New Jersey. The Judge's Committee will review all applications to select semi-finalists who will then be invited to participate in the Pageant.

Miss High School of New York State Beauty Queen and Miss High School of New York State Talent Queen and their mothers will enjoy an expense-free vacation at Asbury Park during the national finals as representatives of New York State.

Exchange Students At Banquet Here; Panel Discussions

A banquet and panel discussion sponsored by the Student Council and Key Club of Kingston High School was given on Saturday, April 7 at Williams Lake Hotel for a group of foreign exchange students and school officials.

Co-chairmen of the event were Miss Beatriz Moya, exchange student now studying at Kingston High School, and Miss Barbara Williams.

Attending as guests were Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent, Kingston Schools Consolidated; Mrs. Earl F. Soper, M. Clifford Miller, principal, Kingston High School; Mrs. Miller; Robert E. Booth, president, Kingston Chapter, American Field Service; Miss Ann Donovan, president-elect, Kingston Chapter, American Field Service; Miss Agnes Scott Smith, advisor to Dame Rumor, school newspaper; Mrs. Mildred G. DeWitt, advisor to Student Council; Donald O. Anderson, advisor to Key Club; Mrs. Donald O. Anderson.

Guest students were Miss Beatriz Moya of Argentina; Miss Elene Goti, Argentina; Miss Esther Malamud, Argentina; Miss Janice White, Australia; Luc Kwanten, Belgium; Miss Emie Diehl, Brazil; Peter Larsen, Denmark; Peter Tamminen, Finland; Miss Ines Knobich, Germany; Miss Flavia Gregori, Italy; Giuseppe Rezzoagli, Italy; Miss Fumiko Tanaka, Japan; Miss Marit Landro, Norway; Miss Iris Tab, Pakistan; Cesar Boullosa, Spain; Miss Sevine Jangocogul, Turkey, and Miss Habibe Mir, Turkey.

Some of the students stayed in the area for the weekend. Several of their sponsoring American "parents" also stayed with them.

At the conclusion of their stay in this county ,the exchange students will travel throughout the country seeing the most important cities and sites of historic interest. There are now approximately 2,000 exchange students in this country.

The panel discussion, which was two hours in length, touched on all subjects from politics to teenage parties.

Warsaw Ghetto Day Slated April 19th

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller has proclaimed April 19 "Warsaw Ghetto Day" in New York State to observe the anniversary of the uprising of Polish Jews against the German army on April 19, 1943.

He also designated April 23-29 as "Nurse Week" in the state. Rockefeller declared it was of the highest importance that more young women be attracted to the nursing profession.

Holden Real Star

Paramount Film Full Panorama of Wartime Europe

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The full panorama of wartime Europe is captured in "The Counterfeit Traitor," a well-made new film that follows the adventure pattern of "The Guns of Navarone."

Paramount hopes that its new film will follow the same money-making pattern, since "Navarone" was the most profitable film of 1961.

"The Counterfeit Traitor" could also be a blockbuster. It offers equally exciting wartime heroics with an added factor that "Navarone" lacked: Credibility.

Patterned After Erickson

The basic facts of "The Counterfeit Traitor" are patterned after the real-life adventures of Eric Erickson. He is an American-born Swedish businessman who did business with the Nazis while reporting oil targets for Allied bombers.

Producer William Perlberg and director-writer George Seaton have done a marvelous job in recreating the look and sound of Germany, Sweden and Denmark during the war. They wisely cast actors in the countries where they filmed. William Holden, Lilli Palmer and Hugh Griffith are the only players recognizable to the American public.

Seaton embroiders episode on episode until the audience is completely involved in the pattern of espionage. The film starts slowly and sometimes clings to coincidence. But once it starts rolling, there is no escape from the tension of suspense.

Holden Real Star

It is hard to imagine any actor doing as good a job as Holden in the role of Erickson. He assumes the work as spy reluctantly; circumstances later bring his total involvement.

The Holden art has perhaps never been fully appreciated. He won his Oscar for playing a heel in "Stalag 17"—typical of the academy's perversity in rewarding offbeat casting.

What Holden does best—better than any other actor—is to play the American hero of today: Realistic, tough, but basically fair. Though Erickson was a naturalized Swede, Holden's portrayal is obviously American.

Robertson Will Portray JFK in 'PT 109' Movie

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Cliff Robertson has snagged the plum role of Lt. John F. Kennedy in "PT 109."

Robertson's selection ended months of sifting through hundreds of actors for the right man for the sensitive role.

Robertson does not look like Kennedy, but like the President, he is tall, slender, good-looking and has a thatch of brown hair.

His best-known performances are in such movies as "The Naked and the Dead," "Picnic," "Autumn Leaves,"

McLean's, Albany A. C. Score Cage Tournament Wins

Bombardiers, Fishkill Bow At Auditorium

McLean's Well Drillers of Germantown knocked the Pine Plains Bombardiers out of the Kingston Basketball tournament with a 70-64 decision last night at the Municipal Auditorium. George Stuetzle's boys were defending their championship.

Advancing to the semi-finals along with the Well Drillers was the powerful Albany Athletic Club, which overwhelmed Van Voorhis Lumber of Fishkill, 96-53, in the opener.

Semi-final action will be held Friday night with Trailways Cafeteria and Ray's Tackle Shop playing at 7:15 and then the Albany A. C. meeting McLean's in the 8:15 second game.

Stuetzle added Doug Rutnik and Alex Osowick, Manhattan College stars, to his roster and they did a good job. However, the others didn't do a thing. Osowick showed he still retains his deadly shooting eye with 23 points, most of them from outside. Rutnik added 19 and kept the ball moving.

Jack Curry, held to four points in the first half, rimmed 17 during the third and fourth periods to pace the Well Drillers. The former Siena ace and now a coach at St. Mary's of Hudson High School, was also rough underneath the boards.

The Albany A. C., an upstate powerhouse, was too good for the undermanned Lumberjacks, who had to put together a roster at the last minute. Herb Muller, coach of the club, said that Stuetzle took Osowick and Rutnik because he offered them money.

Even with those two in the lineup, there would have been no stopping the Albany five. Dick Jannot rimmed 26 points and Bill Telasky had 25 to pace the winners.

Palmer Stages Late Comeback to Beat Player, Finsterwald in Masters Playoff

Shoots a 31 On Back Nine To Win Handily

By MERCER BAILEY

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Golf is in its Palmer era.

Once it was the Jones and Hagen era.

Then it was the Snead and Hogan era.

Now it is the Palmer era. It's Arnold Palmer's all alone. No one shares it with him.

Twice in two days, en route to his third Masters golf championship, Palmer proved no one can equal his ability to rally sensationally when it appears all hope is gone.

In Monday's playoff with Gary Player and Dow Finsterwald, Palmer trailed Player by three shots after nine holes.

The Comeback Starts

Then that characteristic Palmer comeback began unfolding. He birdied No. 10 with a 30-foot putt. Player took a bogey. On No. 12, Palmer got a birdie deuce with a tee shot 3½ feet from the cup. Again Player took a bogey and Palmer was ahead by one shot. Palmer collected two more birdies on the next two holes and it was just a question of how big his victory margin would be.

Palmer wound up with a 4-under-par 68, Player had a 71 and Finsterwald, who never got started, finished with a 77. They had finished the 72-hole route deadlocked at 280. Par for the 6,990-yard Augusta National course is 36-36—72.

Palmer's $20,000 first prize vaulted him ahead of Doug Ford and Cary Middlecoff to the top of the PGA official money winning list for the past 15 years, since official records first were kept. Palmer has collected $298,738 in official PGA purses, Ford $298,037 and Middlecoff $285,232 although Arnold has been a pro only since November 1954.

Player, who failed in his bid to become the first Masters champion to successfully defend his title, won $12,000 second money and Finsterwald pocketed $8,000.

Two Teams Tie In Bridge Play

The teams of Dr. Paul Perlman and Laszio Simo of Woodstock and Mrs. I. H. Wheatcroft of Kingston and Milton Tompkins of Hurley tied for first place in the regular fractional point game of the Glenerie Bridge Club with 61% games.

Third spot went to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Davenport of Stone Ridge with a 56% game and fourth was won by Roy Wulff and Carl Kunz, Kingston, with a 54% game.

The regular fractional point game will take place tonight, 8 o'clock, at the Kingston Stuyvesant Hotel.

UCAL Champions

Many Veterans Back At New Paltz Central

Despite the loss of his number two hurler from last season, a starting outfielder and the keystone combination in the infield, New Paltz Central school baseball coach Larry Johnson isn't exactly crying the blues.

Johnson, replacing Joe Heloskie as head coach, has a good nucleus returning from the 1961 UCAL championship squad. Heloskie, who coached that team, is now in the Army.

Biff Longfield, the top chucker in the circuit, is back and he figures to be an outfielder on the days he doesn't toe the slab. Backing Longfield up will be Woody Osterhoudt, another pitcher-outfielder.

First baseman Valky VanValkenburg, third baseman Ken Freer, outfieler Glenn Moore, the team's leading hitter and reserve outfielder Bob Martin are back for more action. George Bond, the regular catcher, has reported late but he expects to be in shape within a few days.

Other top candidates are freshman Jim Lynch, a catcher; shortstop Tom Vett; second baseman Tom Weisz and Ed Klotzberger and also Scott Yager and Roger Longfield. Two other hurling prospects are Tony Bonagura and Clayt Whitted.

Those who won't return are pitcher Bill Lohrman, right fielder Barney Hansen, second baseman John Keator and shortstop Ed Kruescher. Keator has a broken arm and Kruescher suffered a football injury that hasn't as yet healed properly.

The Huguenots will open today against Pine Bush. The jayvees will be handled by Cliff VanValkenburgh.

The schedule:

Date	Opponent	Where
Apr. 10	Pine Bush	Home
Apr. 16	Millbrook	Home
Apr. 17	Onteora	Away
Apr. 27	Wallkill	Away
May 1	Marlboro	Home

Pender, Downes Earn 44Gs Each

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Paul Pender, who regained the title, and England's Terry Downes each earned $44,670 from their middleweight championship fight.

The monetary benefits from the bout for the title recognized in Europe, Massachusetts and New York were revealed today as Pender sought rest and Downes considered visiting relatives in Baltimore.

Pender, 31, is anxious to arrange the title-clearing match with National Boxing Association middleweight king Gene Fullmer for June.

"I'm going to take it easy for a month," Pender repeated from seclusion. "I'm hopeful we can sign this fight with Fullmer as soon as possible.

"I don't care where it is held. I'll fight where the money is the best. But I want to have the fight in June."

Chick Boice Is Top Scorer in Rec Cage Loop

Chick Boice was the top scorer in the Rec Basketball league with 182 points in 10 games. Figures, compiled by statistician Richie Amato, shows the Ray's Tackle Shop center with an average of 18.2. Joe Uhl of Trailways was second with 167 points and his average was the best in the league, a glittering 27.5 a start.

Team	Won	Lost
Ray's Tackle Shop	9	1
Trailways Cafeteria	8	2
Adolph's	5	5
Carroll's Bait Box	5	6
Byrne Chevrolet	4	7
Hub Delicatessen	0	10

Leading scorers:

Player, team	G	Pts.	Ave.
Chick Boice, T. S.	10	182	18.2
Joe Uhl, Trailways	6	167	27.5
Ron Miller, Adolph's	9	153	17.0
Al Short, Hub	10	148	14.8
Andy Juhl, Carrolls	10	133	13.3
J. Klonowski, T. S.	10	124	12.4

Walt Harder, B.	8	111	13.7
Leo Armstead, T. S.	8	88	11.0
Vin Smedes, T.	4	51	12.3

Playoff action in the league will get underway tonight with Trailways Cafeteria meeting Red Hook at 7:15 and the Tackle Shop colliding with Carroll's Bait Box at 8:30.

Glasco-E.K. LL

The Glasco-East Kingston Little League meets this evening at 7:30 at the Glasco Athletic Club. All persons interested in serving as managers, coaches or in other capacities are invited.

New Paltz Track Team Has Veteran Talent

New Paltz Central, which has been a track power the past few seasons, will be "loaded" again this year. At least Coach Bill Russell is happy with prospects.

"We've lost only one regular from last season and that's Richard Hoffman in the shot and discus," the coach said.

The Huguenots won the UCAL track championship last season. This year, Russell has lined up 16 meets, including a trip to the Penn Relays, another to the Nyack Invitational Relays and several triangular meets. It's a tough schedule. Highlight will be the annual Hudson Valley Relays, slated at the New Paltz track on May 12.

Leading candidates include Don Abrams and Art Stegen in the mile, Clayton Whitted and John Morris in the half-mile, Tony Bonagura and Tom Weisz in the quarter-mile and the crack relay foursome of Ken Freer, Eddie Kreuscher, Ed Guidi and Weisz.

Whitted, a jack of all trades, can handle the pole vault, high and broad jump well but since he's only limited to one field event, Russell hasn't decided which one it will be.

Others in the field events figure to be Freer in the high jump, Guidi in the broad jump, Moore in the shot, Wes Hunter in the pole and John Mars in the high jump.

The schedule:

Apr. 11 — Wallkill and Haldane at New Paltz; Apr. 12 — Arlington and Goshen at New Paltz; Apr. 18 — Marlboro and Washingtonville at New Paltz; Apr. 19 — Oakwood at New Paltz; Apr. 26 — Pearl River at New Paltz; Apr. 28 — New Paltz at Penn Relays; Apr. 30 — Wappingers Falls at New Paltz.

May 2 — New Paltz and Rondout Valley at Ellenville; May 4 or 5 — Nyack Invitational Relays; May 9 — New Paltz at Valley Central; May 12 — Hudson Valley Relays; May 16 — Onteora and Beacon at New Paltz; May 23 — UCAL meet at New Paltz; May 31 — New Paltz and Liberty at Saugerties; June 2 — Section 9 meet.

Against Onteora

Sawyer Track Squad Set to Open Wednesday

Coach Bud Smith has his work cut out for him this season as he gets his Saugerties High track ready for the opening meet this Wednesday. The Sawyers will host Onteora and Cairo in a triangular meet.

Only one senior — Rich Reissler — is on the squad. He's a hurdler and relay man. Three other seniors, who were expected to be the main hopes, are not out.

Bill Schirmer, a discus and shot hopeful, has been having trouble with the books and is presently ineligible. He may join the squad later. Al Hrdlicka suffered a back injury in basketball and will not be out. He's a high jumper, broad jumper and relay runner. Bill Vickery is still recovering from a football injury and he'll be missed in the hurdles and relays.

Last year the Sawyers were second in the DCSL, losing only to Arlington. Coach Smith will be happy for a repeat performance this time around, but there's a lot of inexperience among the 28 hopefuls.

Backing up Perks in the mile are sophomore Dave Watson and junior Ted Schulz. Chuck Schirmer is the chief prospect in the shot and discus and other candidates are juniors Frank Dunn, Carl Rea and Frank Fusick and freshmen Brian Owens and Bill Musser.

Steve Baron, a freshmen, Welton and soph Bob Larson are high jumpers and broad jumpers are Seither, Watson and Rogonese. Larson, Reissler and Maines are the pole vaulters.

The schedule:

Apr. 11 — Onteora, Cairo; home, 4 p. m.
Apr. 18 — Beacon; home, 4 p. m.
May 2 — Hudson; away, 4 p. m.
May 9 — Cardinal Farley; away, 4 p. m.
May 12, New Paltz Relays; away, 1 p. m.
May 14, Arlington; home.
May 16, Wappingers; home, 4 p. m.
May 22, Kingston; away, 4 p. m.
May 22, Kingston; away, 4 p. m.
May 26, DCSL at Arlington; away.
May 29, Ravena; home, 4 p. m.
May 31, New Paltz, Liberty; home, 1 p. m.

Michigan Athlete Shows Improvement

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—A 19-year-old University of Michigan athlete who has been unconscious in an Albuquerque hospital since he was injured in a gymnastics meet a week ago has shown signs of improvement.

A nurse at Presbyterian Hospital said Lewis Hyman, Long Island, N.Y., was able to open and close his eyes upon request Monday.

Hyman underwent brain surgery after falling during a trampoline routine at the NCAA Gymnastics Championships at the University of New Mexico March 31.

Wiltwyck Club Bridge Results

Dr. and Mrs. Harry McNamara of Hurley posted a fine 62 per cent game to take first place on the North-South side of the Wiltwyck Duplicate Bridge Club tournament.

Miss Dorothy Elston and Mrs. Robert Cullum of Kingston combined for a 59 per cent game to pace the East-West side. Twenty four boards were in play in a 10-table Mitchell movement.

Other winners on the North-South side were: Carl Kunz-Steve Pauker, Kingston, 59 per cent; Dr. James Clarkin-Dr. Habeeb Maroon, Kingston, 56 per cent; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Le Fevre, Hurley, 55 per cent.

Paul Mezer and Mort Honig, Kingston, posted 58 per cent for second place on the East-West, followed by T. E. Overgaard and Al Tirsch, Kingston, 57 per cent; and Leon Miller and Milton Dubin, Kingston, 53 per cent.

The Wiltwyck Club will hold a Fractional point game at the Stuyvesant Kingston Hotel Thursday at 8 p. m.

Playoffs Slated In Rec Cage Loop

Playoffs will begin tonight in the Rec Basketball league as runnerup Trailways Cafeteria cagers meet Carroll's Bait Box, the fourth place club, at the Municipal Auditorium. Game time is 7:15.

On Wednesday, Ray's Tackle Shop, the regular season champion, plays Adolph's of Red Hook at 7:15 at the George Washington School.

Launch Fund Campaign for Stricken Boxer

BLUEFIELD, W.Va. (AP)—Tunney Hunsaker, a veteran heavyweight, remained in critical condition today while steps were taken to.

(1) Investigate circumstances surrounding the fight in which he suffered a severe brain injury, and

(2) Launch a fund-raising drive to meet the fighter's mounting medical and hospital costs.

Gov. W. W. Barron announced Monday that he would ask the State Athletic Commission to give him a report on the fight. Barron said he was particularly interested in the kind of physical examinations given fighters in West Virginia.

George McLaughlin, a Beckley sports writer, was named chairman of a committee to solicit funds in Hunsaker's behalf. McLaughlin said donations would be sought from throughout the state. He said an amateur boxing card would be held in Beckley later this month with the proceeds to go to Hunsaker.

The 32-year-old fighter remained in an oxygen tent following two brain operations. Dr. E. L. Gage reported that there was little change in his condition.

Hunsaker was knocked out in the 10th round of a fight with Joe Shelton of Cleveland at nearby Beckley last Friday night. He collapsed while being helped to his corner and was rushed to the hospital here.

In Cleveland, Shelton said he was "real sorry it happened this way." He sent Hunsaker a message expressing his hopes for the West Virginian's recovery.

Washington Leading AL Race; Phils Spoil Cincinnati Debut

Daniels Beats Tigers, 4-1; JFK a Spectator

By MIKE RATHET

President Kennedy has thrown his last pitch of the season, and Whitey Ford is set to fire his first today as the world champion New York Yankees start their campaign for a third consecutive American League pennant.

The President officially opened the baseball season Monday, throwing out the first ball amid the traditional pomp and circumstance in the national capital, then staying to watch Washington whip Detroit 4-1 behind Bennie Daniels' five-hitter.

The two teams take the day off today while the remainder of the league raises the curtain with Baltimore at New York, Cleveland at Boston, Los Angeles at Chicago and Minnesota at Kansas City.

A Packed House

Daniels went the distance in his opening-day assignment before the crowd of 44,383 that jammed the Senators' new $20-million District of Columbia Stadium.

Daniels struck out seven and walked only two while driving in one of the Senators' runs. The Tigers scored when Al Kaline hit into a force play following singles by Jake Wood and Bill Bruton. Bob Johnson led a 13-hit attack with a two-run homer in the fourth inning off Don Mossi that put the Senators ahead for good, plus two singles.

Ford, the little southpaw who won the Cy Young Award as the outstanding pitcher in the majors last season after compiling a 25-4 record, will be backed by the powerful Yankee attack that numbers Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle among its homer hammerers. Shortstop Tom Tresh, filling the post vacated when Tony Kubek went into the Army, is the lone new face in the starting lineup.

Two Rookies

New Cleveland skipper Mel Mcgaha will unveil rookies Ty Cline and Al Luplow in the outfield and send Dick Donovan (10-10) at Washington, to the mound against the Red Sox. Boston will go with Don Schwall (15-7), rookie of the year in 1961, and start newly acquired Ed Bressoud at shortstop.

The White Sox, returning to the go-go formula that won the pennant in 1959, will have trade acquisitions Joe Cunningham and Charlie Smith at first and third base, respectively. Juan Pizzaro (14-7) will handle the pitching, facing the Angels' Eli Grba (11-13).

Ed Rakow (2-8) is tapped for the A's starting assignment and will oppose Jack Kralick (13-11). The Twins, still counting on the potent bats of Harmon Killebrew, Bob Allison and Jim Lemon, will go with an almost completely remade infield.

Mahaffey Hurls Club to Lopsided 12-4 Verdict

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati's defending champion Reds, first National League team to occupy 10th place since the turn of the century, will try to climb out today as the expanded circuit gets its 87th season rolling with a full program of second day openers.

The Reds, as original franchise holders in the NL, traditionally are accorded the privilege of officially opening the season at home each year. They raised the curtain for the 76th time Monday and were unceremoniously drubbed 12-4 by the Philadelphia Phillies.

They'll be trying to register on the other side of the ledger when they invade Los Angeles and help the Dodgers get under way before an expected sellout crowd of 56,000 in the new $18-million Dodger Stadium.

Houston and New York will make their debuts under different circumstances, the Colts opening before the home folks against Chicago while the Mets are at St. Louis for a night game.

Milwaukee is at San Francisco and Philadelphia at Pittsburgh in the other openers as the National League unveils a 10-club circuit playing a 162-game schedule for the first time in its venerable history.

Jay Is Belted

The Reds sent 21-game winner Joey Jay against the Phillies Monday and the ace of the staff lasted 2 1-3 innings before leaving with the score 5-0, including a homer by Clay Dalrymple in the second.

The Reds are expected to come back today with left-hander Jim O'Toole, 19-9 last season when Cincinnati won its first National League pennant in 20 years. Southpaw Johnny Podres (18-5 last year) will oppose him for the Dodgers, who launched their new ball park in Chavez Ravine Monday with a dedication program.

The Colts send their cast of hand-me-downs front and center in a temporary stadium that will serve as home until a new domed ball park is completed. The Cubs will start with four rookies in the line-up—Lou Brock in centerfield, Ken Hubbs at second, Elder White at short and Cuno Barragan catching Don Cardwell (15-14). Bobby Shantz (6-3) will open for Harry Craft's Colts.

Many Old Faces

The Mets open with a host of old faces—Richie Ashburn, Charlie Neal, Gil Hodges, Gus Bell and Frank Thomas, pitcher Roger Craig (5-6)—and Manager Casey Stengel. Stan (The Man) Musial, operating in the No. 4 batting position for the Cardinals, can set another league record if he scores two runs. Larry Jackson (14-11) will be the pitcher.

Warren Spahn, (21-13), like Musial a member of the over-40 club, will be gunning for victory No. 310 when he takes the mound for the Braves at San Francisco, facing a Giant batting order led by NL home run king Orlando Cepeda.

The league-leading Phils will send Jim Owens (5-10) against Bob Friend (14-19) at Pittsburgh.

Palmer's Caddy Knows Those Telltale Moves by His Boss

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Arnold Palmer's longtime caddy says it's easy to tell when the Pennsylvania strong boy is going to make one of his now fabled charges on the golf course.

"When Mr. Arnold do that, everybody better watch out. He's gonna stampede anything in his way."

High Man, a skinny, 6-foot Negro, who has toted Palmer's clubs in all eight of the Masters in which Arnold has played, said the Latrobe, Pa., pro is not a demanding or unreasonably difficult boss.

"Anybody who can't get along with Mr. Arnold can't get along with anybody," added High Man, who wore the 'No. "13" on his green and white overalls.

"I should know. I been almost in his pocket on every hole."

Seeks Advice

High Man said Palmer frequently asks his advice on what club to use but usually winds up making the final decision himself.

"Sometime he go with my advise—and it better be right," the caddy said. "If I misclub him, he don't chastise me. He just look a little mean, and I feel like going through the ground. But he is a great man."

High Man said he suggested the wrong club to Palmer Sunday on the fourth day of the tournament and caused Arnold to take a double-bogey 6 which almost cost him the championship.

"After that hole, Mr. Arnold look at me and say, 'Well, High Man, we lost the tournament there.'

"I say: 'We ain't lost nothing, Mr. Arnold, we got eight more holes to play.' He don't say nothing. He just look up in the sky like he is wishing for some miracle to come down.

"And the miracle come down—like somebody was answering him."

Mac Ilvane Sets Archery Record

Bob MacIlvane set a new course record with 465 points in the 400 Class of the Ti Yogi Bowmen's first league tournament of the 1962 season. MacIlvane set the new standard despite a driving rainstorm.

Trailing the leader in the 400 Class were W. Pink 435 and George Scerrati, 421.

Freestyle (for men)—Jack Russell, 602; Bill Blodgett, 564; Dick Volney, 548; Heavy tackle—G. Partington, 198.

Saga of a Rag

LAUREL, Md. — (NEA) — This is how John Wilkie some years ago became agent for Nick Shuk, who will ride during the Laurel Race Course's spring meeting. "Nick came to the barn one morning to work a horse I was grooming," recalled Wilkie. "Nick looked at me and said, 'You don't look good with that rub rag in your hand. How about becoming my agent?" "I did."

Lakers, Celts To Play Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Tied at one game each, the Los Angeles Lakers and the Boston Celtics resume their battle tonight for the National Basketball Association championship.

The defending champions from Boston couldn't do anything wrong as they won the opener, 122-108 and they had a fantastic scoring spree in the second half of the second game, won by the Lakers 129-122.

Coach Fred Schaus of the Lakers says he cannot recall seeing a basketball team close so wide a gap as fast as did the Celtics when they moved from a 98-76 deficit in the third period to go ahead in the final period.

Hurley GOP Will See Film Tonight

Miss Hazel Steed, executive director of the Ulster County Heart Chapter, will speak tonight during the meeting of the Town of Hurley Republican Club.

Tonight's meeting, set for 8 o'clock, will be held at the West Hurley Fire Hall.

Miss Steed will show a film on rheumatic fever, The Valiant Heart, and will discus the subject with club members on a question and answer basis, according to Peter Weider, president of the Hurley GOP.

A full attendance is requested by President Weider, particularly those who are parents, to be on hand for this subject which is of vital interest to all.

Falling Limb Kills Power

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Five hospitals and 550 homes lost electric service for half an hour when a tree limb fell and broke a 4,000-volt power line.

The Veterans Administration Hospital received emergency power Monday night from a special feeder line, and Memorial Hospital used generators. The other hospitals — University, Crouse-Irving, and Psychopathic —were without power until the break was repaired.

March of Dimes Cites 5 at OCS For Services

Four members of the Onteora Central School District were the recipients of individual awards stemming from their past services to the National Foundation for the March of Dimes.

Receiving the Foundation's Certificate of Appreciation for five years of service were: Harry Simon, chairman of the Music Department; Edward Witko, director of Physical Education; Mrs. Elsie Dibbell, elementary teacher at Phoenicia; and Mrs. Lena Lorenz of the custodial staff.

The dedication on the awards reads as follows: "In recognition of 5 years of service devoted to the problems of those afflicted with polio and joining the new attacks on birth defects and arthritis, working in partnership with science and medicine in the humanitarian effort to alleviate and, ultimately, to eradicate, the tragedy of those crippling diseases."

In announcing these awards, Harry Allen, chairman of the March of Dimes for the Town of Shandaken, commended each of the recipients for always responding willingly and rendering their services to this most needed cause.

Over the past seven years, Simon has directed the musical programs with the Onteora Central band and chorus, while Witko has planned the annual Alumni-Faculty basketball games. Mrs. Dibbell and Mrs. Lorenz have given valuable service by collecting funds from their home areas of Phoenicia and Shandaken respectively.

Winners Named In Science Fair At Onteora CS

More than 120 exhibits submitted by children in grades two through six were on display at the third annual Science Fair for the main and Bennett buildings of the Onteora Central School, Saturday in the Bennett school.

Serving as judges were: Bohumir Larys, Dr. Rudolf Thun, James Orser, David Carlson, Carolyn Schrier and Richard Nixdorf. Chairmen of the fair were: Mrs. Linda Gray, Mrs. Alison Hansen and Michael Boyle.

Winners from Grade 6 were: first place, Clifford Kellerhouse's display of Indian villages; second, John Tisch and Robbie Gehman's study of U.S. rattlesnakes; third place, Saundra Merch analysis of human cells.

Grade 5 winners were: first place, Judy Moncure's study of cells; second place, Erik Donaldson's experiment with a plant growth stimulant; third place, Tony Criscimagna's home-made voltmeter.

Go to New Paltz

First and second place winners in these grades will exhibit at the Mid-Hudson Science Fair in New Paltz in May.

Awards in the primary grades went to Sharon Buley and Diane Reffelt, Grade 3, for their model of the internal structure of a fish and clam; and to James Levins, Grade 3, for his model, "How We Breathe." Janette Giuliano, Grade 2, won an award for her windmill demonstrating the use of wind for power.

The prizes, books of the students' own choice, will be given by the Onteora P-TA. The award certificates were presented by Robert Castle on behalf of the P-TA.

High light of the show was a display on hydraulics, provided by Electrol, Inc., and prepared and presented by Lawrence G. Casey of Lake Hill.

Robert Carlson, And the Mullers Star for P-TA

ROBERT ERIC CARLSON

On Saturday night, April 14, at 8 p. m. at the Onteora Central School in Boiceville, dancers Pat and Harrison Muller and singer, Robert Eric Carlson, will not only sing and dance, but they will talk across the footlights with the audience.

Informality and variety will be stressed with the dance numbers ranging from classical ballet to modern jazz. Carlson will sing folk song selections and show tunes, accompanying himself on the guitar.

Bob Carlson needs no introduction to area audiences, as he has been singing and acting locally for many years, when he could find the time from his busy New York schedule on radio, TV and Broadway. His rich bass voice and impeccable musical taste will delight the most discriminating listener.

Broadway Vets

Pat and Harrison Muller also come from Broadway and TV, and although Harrison is renowned for his informal ease with all audiences, his performance is polished and expert. Add to this, Harrison's beautiful and sparkling wife, Pat, and they are an unbeatable combination.

Persons who would like to meet and talk with the guest performers are welcome back stage at the finish of the performance for some informal conversation and further glimpses into the world of the professional.

The Onteora P-TA Cultural Arts Commitee is proud to be able to present this trio of renowned stars for its fund raising performance. Tickets may be purchased at the door on the evening of the performance.

World of Music: By Schimmerling

Verdi Revival: Not one of the best, but one of the rarely heard Verdi operas is The Battle of Legnano. It tells the story of Frederick Barbarossa, the red-bearded German Emperor who had crossed the Alps in order to collect tribute from the rebellious Italians (1176). The opera was revived this season in La Scala Milan as one of the celebrations of the anniversary of Italian unification. The libretto is more than patriotic, it is inflammatory. It was even more so in 1849 when parts of Northern Italy were still under Austrian rule.

Alban Berg Premiere:

Alban Berg's controversial opera Lulu will be first performed in Vienna on June 9 of this year. The performance will not take place in Vienna's famous opera house but in the remodelled Theater on the Wien River which was not used since 1955. It was here where in 1805 Beethoven's Fidelio was premiered with the composer present. Likewise, the two famous Johann Strauss operettas The Bat and The Gypsy Baron were given here for the first time. Why Lulu, the work of an Austrian composer, first performed in Zurich in 1937, was not given in Austria before 1962 seems to be a sensible question. The correct answer is probably: Nemo propheta in patria (Nobody is a prophet in his own country).

Pianists of Growing Fame:

This week the 25th International Festival of Contemporary Music has started in Venice. The public looks forward with great interest to a recital by David Tudor, "specialist of contemporary piano music," — Badena-Skoda and Saviatoslav Richter, pianists from Austria and Russia respectively are making headlines in major European cities. The reviews are laudatory, in some instances enthusiastic.

Japanese Maestro Conducts:

Conductor Hiroyuki Iwaki of Tokyo conducted the Philharmonic Orchestra of Brno (Moravia). He presented works by the two contemporary composers: Yuzo Toyama of Japan and C. Kohoutek of Czechoslovakia.

Great Britain Hails Prague Orchestra:

The Prague Philharmonic under Karel Ancerl gave 11 concerts in Great Britain. "The festival hall audience in London called the orchestra back ten times for bows. Especially satisfying was the large number of young people in the audience." The orchestra played in Leeds in the same auditorium where about three quarters of a century ago Dvorak conducted some of his own compositions. The program was half Czech (Smetana and Dvorak) and half English (Vaugham-Williams and Benjamin Britten).

Opera Music Without Singers:

The new Hall of the City of Vienna is probably one of the largest auditoria in the world. This coming spring-summer season four symphony concerts will be given in this hall. In one of them Maestro Quadri will conduct "Opera Music Without Singers"; a strange title for a concert program, indeed. But since singers without opera music are possible, why shouldn't it work out well in the reversed direction "Opera Music Without Singers"?

Opera Output in Italy:

The Italian operatic tradition continues to flourish. Toward the end of 1961 three new operas were produced. Cremesini's "The Invader," Tintori's "Medea," Giuffre's "Airport." In January 1962 the Italian Radio presented Bossi's "Crusade of the Innocent," Profeta's "Lorenzino de' Medici" and Orlando's "The Rose in the Hair." Truly, Italians did not lose one iota of their opera enthusiasm since almost four hundred years, that is since the days when "opera was born in Italy."

Science Teacher At OCS Receives Physics Award

Richard Nixdorf, a high school science teacher at Onteora Central School has been selected by the Committee on Selection of the National Science Foundation to be a participant in the Physical Science Study Committee Summer Institute in High school physics.

He will receive a full stipend for his studies including tuition, laboratory fees, living expenses, and travel expenses from the National Science Foundation. The course will be held at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

The institute for teachers of high school physics stresses the Physical Science Study Committee physics course, a new one which has been developed during the past five years. This course is a new approach for the physics course devised for a high school level, stressing the understanding of basic physics principles while using new techniques in the laboratory.

Nixdorf is an advisor to the Junior Class, a Science Club sponsor and treasurer of the Onteora Teachers Association. At the present time he resides in Woodstock. His activities outside of school include the duties of Scoutmaster of Troop 66, B.S.A., in West Hurley and organist and choir director at Our Lady of La Salette Church in Boiceville.

AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE DISCONTINUANCE OF THE USE OF A PORTION OF HASBROUCK PARK FOR PARK, RECREATIONAL OR OTHER PUBLIC PURPOSES AND AUTHORIZING THE CONVEYANCE OF SAME TO THE KINGSTON CITY SCHOOL DISTRICT FOR EDUCATIONAL PURPOSES.

WHEREAS, the Board of Education of the City School District of the City of Kingston, New York proposes to construct an elementary school on a portion of the property owned by the City of Kingston known as Hasbrouck Park; and,

WHEREAS, the Common Council of the City of Kingston deems it to be in the public interest to convey that portion of the said Hasbrouck Park required as the school site; and,

WHEREAS, it has been mutually agreed between the said Board of Education and the Common Council of the City of Kingston, that the fair and reasonable value of the said property sought by the Board of Education as more particularly hereinafter described is the sum of NINE THOUSAND TWO HUNDRED FIFTY and 00/100 ($9,250.00) DOLLARS; and,

WHEREAS, Chapter 650 of the Laws of 1961 passed by the New York State Legislature authorizes the City of Kingston to discontinue the use of the premises hereinafter described for park, recreational or other public purposes and convey the same to the Kingston City School District for educational purposes,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, ULSTER COUNTY, NEW YORK as follows:

Section 1. That the City of Kingston by good and sufficient deed convey to Kingston City School District (Consolidated) for educational purposes upon payment to the said City of Kingston of the sum of NINE THOUSAND TWO HUNDRED FIFTY and 00/100 ($9,250.00) DOLLARS, the following described premises:

ALL THAT CERTAIN PIECE OR PARCEL OF LAND situate, lying and being in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster, bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point on the South Easterly street line of Gross Street, said point being the North Westerly corner of lands of Stephen S. Slizewski and running thence along the Southerly line of lands of Slizewski, Kruszenski, Jump, Brophy and old Orchard Street, South 66° 53' East 327.53 feet to the North Westerly corner of lands of Raymond and Mary Brown; thence along other lands of Hasbrouck Park the following courses and distances: South 23° 05' West 50.00 feet to a point; thence South 89° 42' West 100.00 feet to a point; thence South 36° 17' West 350.00 feet to a point; thence South 68° 34' West 374.00 feet to a point; thence North 53° 43' West 50.00 feet to a point on the South Easterly street line of Gross Street; thence along the South Easterly street line of Gross Street North 36° 17' East 184.25 feet to the North Westerly corner of lands of John McCullough; thence along the North Westerly line of lands of John McCullough in a South Easterly direction 80.00 feet to a point; thence North Easterly and parallel with the South Easterly street line of Gross Street 88.76 feet to a point; thence Westerly 82.16 feet to a point in the South Easterly street line of Gross Street; thence along the South Easterly street line of Gross Street North 36° 17' East 281.42 feet to the North Westerly corner of lands of Michael J. and Clair Corcoran; thence in an Easterly direction along the South Westerly line of lands of Corcoran 113.07 feet to a point; thence along the Easterly line of lands of Corcoran in a Northerly direction 120.00 feet to a point; thence along the Northerly line of lands of Corcoran in a Westerly direction 84.92 feet to a point on the South Easterly street line of Gross Street; thence along the South Easterly street line of Gross Street North 36° 17' East 41.08 feet to the place of beginning. CONTAINING: 3.165 Acres.

All bearings are referred to the Magnetic-Meridian as of April, eighteen hundred seventy-one.

BEING a portion of the premises described in a deed from Newark Lime and Cement Manufacturing Company to City of Kingston and duly recorded in Ulster County Clerk's Office in Liber 592 of Deeds at page 281.

RESERVING unto the City of Kingston the exclusive right to use any cave which might lie beneath the above described premises for municipal purposes, access to which however shall be only from other lands.

Section 2. That immediately upon the conveyance of title as herein provided in Section 1, the use of the premises hereinabove described by the City of Kingston for park, recreational or other public purposes shall be discontinued.

SUBMITTED to the Mayor by the City Clerk, this 4th day of April, 1962.

New Yorkers Are Seeking Revisions In Wire Tap Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York State Law enforcement officials reportedly are seeking revisions in the Kennedy Administration's wiretap bill that is now before Congress.

A New York delegation, which included State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, met Monday with Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy to discuss the wiretap legislation.

After the meeting, Lefkowitz declined to answer newsmen's questions and referred all inquiries to Kennedy.

Lefkowitz reportedly has been urging the administration to include robbery, burglary, abortion and gambling cases among those in which court-approved wiretapping could be used.

One provision of the bill now before Congress would authorize wiretapping by state officials in cases involving murder, kidnapping, extortion, bribery, and narcotics. However, a state court would have to authorize wiretapping in such cases upon the detailed application by the state attorney general of chief prosecuting attorney of a city or county.

One of the main provisions of the federal wiretapping law would enable the attorney general to authorize wiretaps by the F.B.I. in cases involving the national security.

Wiretap evidence presently is inadmissable in federal courts. The federal ban has thrown a cloud over the admissability of such evidence in state courts.

SC Bees Clinch Dartball Pennant

Service Center B's with a three-game win over West Camp Vols clinched the Saugerties Dartball League pennant Monday night. Only two nights of play with six games remain before the season ends.

American Legion gained in its surge for second place by defeating second place Katsbaan 2 to 1.

Golden Eagles, Quarryville and Centerville will each attempt to move into the fifth slot in the standings and a chance for the play-offs which start with the quarter-finals on Monday, April 30.

Three-game winners Monday night were SCA'S over Centerville Vols; Cementon over Quarryville, and Golden Eagles over Mt. Marion.

Winner of 2 to 1 splits were West Camp over Trinity and Ruby over Veteran. No scores were reported from Glasco and Malden Vols. Centerville was not scheduled.

Reformed Church Women's Guild Plans Activities

The Women's Guild for Christian Service of the Saugerties Reformed Church met Wednesday evening, in the parish room of the church.

A letter from Roxanna Saar Nichols of Omdurman, the Sudan Africa, was read by Mrs. John DeGroff. The Nichols are the parents of a daughter born in November, 1961. A motion was made to send a sum of money to Mrs. Nichols for use in the Mission Field, also a personal gift to be sent to the new member of the family.

Anyone desiring greeting cards, printed stationery and gift paper many contact Mrs. Frank White, who is in charge of the project, and will take orders at any time.

Guild members will bring a terry cloth dish towel to the May meeting for use in the church kitchen. Mrs. Willett Overbaugh, president, announced that the film projector purchased by the Guild has at last arrived.

Mrs. John Decker presented a Spiritual Life program in keeping with the Easter season. Mr. and Mrs. Decker leave Saugerties very soon and will make their home in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., in the near future. Mrs. Decker who has been an active worker and a devoted Spiritual life chairman, was presented with a gift by Mrs. C. W. Henderson.

Refreshments were served by the committee, Mrs. James Abbott, Mrs. Harold VanVoorhis, and Mrs. John Decker. The next meeting will also be a dessert meeting at 8 p. m. May 2. The hostesses will be Mrs. Terry Staples and Mrs. Richard Smith.

Little League Meets

The Lions Club Little League officials have scheduled a meeting for Tuesday, April 17, 7:30 p. m. in the firemen's room in the Municipal Building and are issuing an invitation to all interested men to attend to help with plans for the coming season.

Spring training will begin at the little league field April 23, weather permitting, at which time boys not yet registered may sign up. To date only 130 boys have filled out the applications and many more are needed to complete the rosters for the number of teams which usually comprise the league. The parents may attend registration night, as the signature of one is required to make the registration binding.

Area Social Notes

The Rev. and Mrs. Walter Cowen are in Freeland, Pa., today where they are attending the 60th wedding anniversary of Mrs. Cowen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wolfe. A dinner is being held at Genetti's Restaurant, Hazelton, to honor the couple.

Mrs. Jennie Green MacMullen of the Upper Creek Road has been transferred to the Kingston Hospital from the Albany Medical Center.

Mrs. Minnie Stickles of 210 Partition Street who has been a patient at the Benedictine Hospital, is now at Dale's Sanitarium, Barclay Heights.

Sewing Contest Rules Announced

The Saugerties Jayncees have announced the rules for their annual sewing contest, which will be held May 12.

Beginners' Division—Entrants with a year or less of sewing experience, or anyone under 13 years of age.

Intermediate Division — Entrants with over a year's experience who do not meet the qualifications of the other two categories.

Advanced Division—Those who have had experience or training in tailoring or advanced dressmaking or, have won in a sewing competition.

Children's Wear—Clothes for children up to children's size 14.

No more than two garments may be submitted for each division. Those entering children's clothes division may enter a garment for each child and also participate in the general division.

All category placement is subject to the judges' approval.

All garments entered in the contest will be modeled at a fashion show, May 24, in the cafeteria of the Saugerties High School. Awards will be made then.

Congregational Notes

The First Congregational Church of Saugerties has voted to remain as a Congregational-Christian Church. A recent vote by over 80 per cent of the congregation gave a unanimous approval to joining the National Association of Congregational Christian Churches. The majority of Congregational Christian Churches have entered the newly formed United Church of Christ, which is a merger of Evangelical and Reformed Churches and the Congregational Church.

The Rev. Frederick J. Imhoff, pastor, has announced that his sermon topic at the 11 a. m. service Palm Sunday will be A Promise Kept. An evening service will be held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, West Camp at 7:30. The Rev. Mr. Imhoff will preach on Integrity Supreme at this service, sponsored by the Saugerties Area Council of Churches.

The congregation will participate in the Easter sunrise service at Seamon Park, if weather permits, otherwise the worshippers will meet in the Dutch Arms Chapel of the Saugerties Reformed Church. The regular Easter service of the church will be at 11 a. m.

Stantons of Manlius Killed in Collision

MANLIUS, N.Y. (AP)—Harold P. Stanton, 66, of Manlius, and his wife, Margaret, were killed Monday night in a two-car, head-on collision.

The accident occurred on a county road about three miles northwest of this Onondaga County village.

Joseph O'Laughlin, 34, of Manlius, was reported in critical condition at University Hospital in Syracuse. He was in the other car.

Elected by Welders

CLEVELAND (AP)—James H. Matheny of Olean, N.Y., has been elected a director of the American Welding Society.

The election was announced Monday at the annual meeting of the society. John H. Blankenbuehler of Troy, Ohio, was elected president.

Study Plan Withdrawn On Taking Falls Water

WASHINGTON (AP)—A request for a proposed study of diversion of more water from Niagara Falls has been withdrawn by the U.S.-Canadian Joint Commission.

Critics of the diversion have expressed fears that reducing the flow of water over the falls would detract from the scenic beauty.

The State Department said Monday the study would be postponed until the effect on the flow from control works now under construction was determined.

New York State and Ontario officials had asked that the study request be withdrawn, a State Department spokesman said.

Governor Sends Best Wishes to Yankees Today

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller wishes the New York Yankees well in the baseball season that began for them today.

"Good luck on opening day and in every game this season," Rockefeller said in a telegram Monday to Yankee Manager Ralph Houk.

The governor extended "personal and official best wishes to the Yankees as they open another season which we all hope will culminate in our 27th American League pennant flying over Yankee Stadium."

The Yankees, defending world champions, opened at home against the Baltimore Orioles.

The governor's office made no mention of a similar telegram to the New York Mets, the new National League team in New York City. The Mets began their first season today against the Cardinals in St. Louis.

Troy Tobacco Man Killed by Automobile

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — James B. McLean, 43, of North Troy, was the man struck and killed by an automobile Sunday night in suburban Menands, State Police report.

The identification was made Monday.

Walter A. Danko, 36, of Crescent, driver of the car, told State Police that the man jumped in front of the car and Danko was unable to avoid hitting him. Danko's report was corroborated by a passenger.

No charge was filed against Danko.

Short Ride to Freedom

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—A 5-foot, 6-inch prisoner rode out of Monroe County Penitentiary on the rear axle of a bakery truck Monday, penitentiary officials said. He was recaptured a few hours after his escape while trying to thumb a second ride.

The prisoner, Milton Fehlman, 32, of Fredonia, climbed underneath the penitentiary truck while it was parked near a kitchen where he worked, officials said.

Authorities said Fehlman, serving a one-year term for unlawful entry, would face escape charges upon his release next year.

FORMULA FOR DISASTER

Do you know the formula for disaster? It's simple. Just add a careless spark to dry woods in the open air. Nature provides the fuel and the air, but, in 9 out of 10 cases, man provides the spark.

So, when the woods are hot and dry, be extra careful, won't you? That little spark from your campfire, your cigarette, or your trash fire can loose a raging demon, that charges through the forest destroying as it goes. Don't you let disaster strike!

Remember—Only you can PREVENT FOREST FIRES!
